Official Paper of the City.

Forever float that standard sheet!
Where breathes the foe but falls before us?
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

Our Neighbors in Canada.

A friend in Canada forwards us some of their newspapers, for the purpose, we suppose, of informing us what is said about the rebellion. The Toronto Globe has an article condemning in strong terms the arrest of Mason and Slidell on board the British steamer Trent. It takes the position that the deck of a vessel is as sacred as the soil of the country where it belongs, and that if they permit search and seizure on their vessels, neutral territory could be searched as well. Doubtless this is true to some extent, especially on the boundary lines of different countries. Our Canadian neighbors must remember that they did not scruple to exercise this power during the rebellion in their own provinces in 1837-8.—Their military officers sent an expedition to Schlosser, on the Niagara river, one night, and forcibly seized the American steamer Caroline, drove off the crew, killing one man, setting fire to the boat and let it drift over Niagara Falls. Instead of apologizing for this invasion of neutral territory, they justified it, and the government of Great Britain took upon itself the responsibility of the act. Inasmuch as the Caroline was probably engaged in aiding the "patriots," our government did not press the matter; but it was a far more outrageous proceeding on the part of the English authorities, than the stopping of the steamer Trent and taking two criminals from on board, who were leaving the country for the avowed purpose of securing aid for their treason. We do not regard a vessel at sea, on the common highway of nations, exactly in the same light as the territory of a nation. There must be a greater latitude for examination into the character of a vessel than would be allowed to persons on land, in the midst of a neutral country, where the regular proceedings of law can at all times be enforced.

The other Canadian papers received are even more unfriendly than the Globe. The Peterboro Review, a ministerial paper, has a most virulent article, condemning the the north and the efforts of the national government to suppress the rebellion, but not a word against the bloody scoundrels who commenced this causeless rebellion.—This paper even declares that the success of the north would be the worst thing that could happen to America, while the independence of the south "will be the most for the advantage of mankind, even should the slavery of the negro race be continued." This latter declaration shows what sincerity there has been in the abolition sentiments of the English government. As long as they could annoy and trouble us about slavery, they were loud in their denunciation of it, but now that slavery seeks to divide, and weaken us by disunion, these same English philanthropists are found aiding and abetting the rebel slave holders—those whom they denounced as pirates and fillibusters, are screened and protected in every possible way. "Perfidious Albion" was written long ago, but it is as true to-day as ever.

The Millbrook, C. W., Chronicle also gives a truthful paragraph about "fifty thousand" sailors and fifteen thousand soldiers in "fifty large men-of-war" taking Port Royal, and "succeeding in defeating 4,000 confederates, which was not much to boast of." It is not necessary to reply to such sneers; they deceive only those who desire to believe its implied falsehoods. It is only important as showing the feeling towards us, manifested by some of the Canadian press. We do not believe the people of Canada, a majority of them, are unfriendly to us, but the pimps of the English government are those who talk in this way; that government which keeps Canadian commerce and manufactures down that England may do all that business herself; which compels Canada to produce the raw material while English ships and English manufacturers do the rest of the work. If Canadians are content to drag along, without enterprise and without progress, the menials of a British aristocracy, let them do it. We have not a word to say to persuade them to take a different course. But when these seedy provincials sneer at us in our troubles, and sympathise with a slave holder's rebellion, merely because they expect smiles from their oppressive government beyond the sea, in which they have no voice, we look upon them with pity.—We have our misfortunes and trouble here, growing out of the legacy of slavery, left us by England, but we shall get rid of it, and be stronger for the struggle. In the meantime, we ask no sympathy from any but the genuine friends of a republican government; let others sneer, and cavil, and denounce us, as they please. They day will come when Canada will be a part of us—a portion of the grand and free Republic of North America. We bide our time.

Health of Gen. Houston.—The Galveston Civilian says that, "at last accounts, Gen. Houston was slowly recovering, and was deemed out of danger."

John Brown's sharp-shooters have arrived at Leavenworth, Kansas, and have joined Col. Jennison's regiment.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

Second Cavalry.—Levi Sterling, of Mineral Point, has been appointed third major in Col. Washburne's regiment.

Pier Gone at Port Washington.—The late storm took with it about two-thirds of the south pier at Port Washington. It was owned by Messrs. Silverman & Curtis.

Donations for the Family of Jackson.—The Richmond Examiner of the 14th, states that the donations for the family of Jackson, the murderer of Ellsworth, now reach $30,000.

A Useful Bird.—"On the Edinburgh & Glasgow railroad, a trained parrot is kept at every station to call out the name of the place at the arrival of trains. They pronounce it so as to be heard and understood, which is more than the conductors have heretofore done." A very smart satire upon official negligence. Few who have travelled but have also been puzzled at the cabalistic words in which conductors sometimes announce a station.—Balt. Sun.

In Madison county, Illinois, a few days ago, a crazy German named Fribert, who had lost his reason on the death of wife, shot dead his four children and then blew his own brains out.

The Seneca Falls Knitting Mills, now engaged on government contracts, employs between three and four thousand men and women, and yet this force is inadequate to meet the demand.

Samuel Dickinson of Sanilac, Michigan, enlisted in Capt. Huckins' company. It takes two to make a bargain, and Samuel's wife wasn't agreeable at such an act of patriotism. Samuel was asleep that night she hacked off two of his fingers with a chisel and block. This was a loud call to Samuel to stay at home and Capt. Huckins saw the point of it.

Official Votes.—Clark county gives Harvey 175, Ferguson 26—maj. 149.—Douglas, Harvey 51, Ferguson 41—maj. 10. Dunn, Harvey 490, Ferguson 7—maj. 483. This leaves Ashland, Burnett, Dallas, Eau Claire, Kewaunee, La Fayette and La Pointe to be heard from officially. No reports whatever have been received from Burnett and Dallas. Ashland is reported at 25 majority for Harvey, Eau Claire at 210, Kewaunee at 200, La Pointe at 40, La Fayette is reported at 386 for Ferguson. In round numbers, the majorities will be about as follows:

Harvey	8,500
Salomon	5,800
Lewis	11,000
Hastings	12,800
Howe	12,000
Pickard	9,500
Ramsay	7,500
Hodges	7,700

J. G. McKindley gets a little over 1,000 votes for state superintendent, and Wm. C. Allen nearly 5,000 for lieutenant governor on the union ticket.

☞ If a score of the best daguerrean artists in the country had experimented for a life-like portrait, no one of them could have succeeded better than the Albany Journal. It says:

"Of Mason, it is sufficient to say, that he is the type of the worst breed of southern aristocrats:—a braggart without courage—a snob without breeding—a bully without the graces of his class. Dull of eye and dull of wit—pompous, conceited, shallow—he adds to the depravity of the traitor the ignoble attributes of the spy. A secessionists from the beginning, he did not scruple to hold the seat and draw the pay of a senator, in order the better to batray the government he had sworn to support."

Portrait of Lord Palmerston.—Fancy a man of seventy-six, who has been in most incessant political life for more than fifty years, sitting out a debate of ten hours without flinching, and then walking to his house in Piccadilly, not less than two miles. And his body is not more active than his mind. Not a word escapes him when a prominent man is on his legs. Do not be deceived by his lazy attitude or his sleepy expression. Not a man in the house has his wits more thoroughly about him. Ever ready to extricate his colleagues from an awkward difficulty, to evade a dangerous question—making, with an air of transparent candor, a reply in which nothing is answered—to disarm an angry opponent with a few conciliatory or complimentary words, or to demolish him with a little good humored raillery which sets the house in a roar; equally skillful in attack and retreat; such, in a word, is the bearing of this gay and gallant veteran, from the beginning to the end of each debate, during the entire session of parliament.

He seems absolutely insensible to fatigue. "I happened," said a member of the house, writing to a friend, last summer, "to follow Lord Palmerston, as he left the cloak-room, the other morning, after a late sitting, and, as I was going his way, I thought I might as well see how he got over the ground. At first he seemed a little stiff in the legs; but when he warmed to his work he began to pull out, and before he got a third of the way he bowled along splendidly, so that he put me to it to keep him in view. Perhaps in a few hours after that long sitting and that walk home, and the brief sleep that followed, the premier might have been seen standing bolt upright at one end of a great table in Cambridge House, receiving a deputation from the country, listening with patient and courteous attention to some tedious spokesman, or astonishing his hearers by his knowledge of their affairs and his intimacy with their trade or business."

Butler's Troops En Route.—The programme for the departure of the first 3,000 men of Gen. Butler's New England division, was agreeably filled on Wednesday. The mammoth steamer Constitution, the largest vessel ever seen in Boston harbor, took on board the 26th Massachusetts and 9th Connecticut, and moving thence to Portland, received the 12th Maine, making the complement for her first voyage to Port Royal. The other 3,000 will be ready for the return trip of the steamer.

The Tables Turned.—J. M. Mason and Jeff. Davis were a majority of the committee, and made the majority report in the Harper's Ferry investigation case.

Senator Mason reported that John Brown's raid "was intended to subvert the government of the United States," that it was "attended by armed resistance to the authorities and public force of the United States."

Now, Mr. Mason, what have you been doing? John Brown, a good deal better man than you ever dared be, was hung. What shall be done with Jim. Mason?—Leavenworth Conservator.

The B's.—Beaufort is a set-off to Bull Run, Big Bethel, and Ball's Bluff. The naval expedition has redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled the B's, and the second letter of the alphabet is again worthy of our esteem.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.

Tribune's special.—The reports of the Secretaries approach completion; the great interest which the war will give to that of the Secretary of war will be heightened by Mr. Cameron's distinct avowal of his policy of placing arms in the hands of slaves willing to use them for the cause of the Union. He will support this by argument and historical references, and so show that his leading position upon this vital question has been as deliberately as strongly taken, as a foretaste of the admisistration hereafter of the war department until the close of this rebellion. The public will learn with interest that Mr. Cameron will appeal to congress and to the governors of the states for authority to bind the government to practice the closest economy, and will strictly require economy and accountability from every subordinate in the war bureau, and the army in the field; enormous as the war is and will be, they will not be permitted to plunder either the government or the people. Mr. Cameron's report will also probably contain reccommendations that will go far to abolish the distinction between regulars and volunteers. Among these will be the repeal of the regulation which confers rank on the regular officer over the volunteer of the same grade, leaving it to be determined by seniority according to date of commission.

Secretary Chase's report will recommend, necessarily, a large increase of revenue duties. The necessities of the treasury during the war, will require that the tariff be so shaped as to produce the greatest possible amount of income. Large incidental protection to American manufacturers will, of course, be the consequence. Upon the vital idea of the war, it is said that Mr. Chase will fully develop the theory that the slaves in the rebel states should be employed under wages to raise cotton, sugar, rice and tobacco, for government account. This policy has already been established by Mr. Cameron in regard to the ungathered sea island cotton in Beaufort. The nation will heartily approve its recommendation by Mr. Chase to congress, as a wiser disposition of the slaves than to leave them in the rear of our armies, roaming at large, pillaging and marauding.

Samuel A. Purviance, of Pennsylvania, recently appointed consul general to Cuba, has declined.

A scouting party of 150 cavalry sent out by Gen. McCall to day, went as far as Drainsville, about half way from his camp to Leesburgh, and returned without seeing any signs of the enemy.

Times' dispatch.—Capt. Thomas, of the quarter master's department, has now 260,000 army coats and pants stored in Corcoran's building. Yesterday an entire brigade of 4,000 men, were furnished with pants in two hours.

Herald's dispatch.—The expedition which left some days ago, down the Potomac, returned this morning with six political prisoners, arrested in St. Marys, Maryland. It appears that these parties are a portion of a secret organization for the purpose of conveying men and arms to the rebel government. A large quantity of arms was discovered and seized. A rebel spy was also arrested who had just returned from the other side, who had left Richmond the day before. Many valuable letters and papers were found on his person.

The expedition also seized a large quantity of contraband correspondence, which was found in the several post-offices in lower Maryland. They discovered the channel through which the rebels have been receiving northern papers and other important information.

DETROIT, Nov. 23.

The steamer Key Stone State bound hence for Milwaukee, 8th inst., is believed to have gone down with all on board. She was last seen in a gale, apparently disabled, and pieces of wreck supposed to belong to her have since been picked up on Lake Huron.

ROLLA, Nov. 22.

McCulloch with a large force is now encamped between Springfield and Lebanon. His pickets extended last night over a space of 15 miles this side of Lebanon.—This is reliable. It was rumored in camp last night that the advance of the rebel army, 8,000 strong, was at the Gasconade, about 13 miles west of here. This however is not credited.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 25.

The Richmond Enquirer says that the confederate congress has passed a bill for the removal of the capital from Richmond to Nashville, and that congress will soon assemble there.

BOSTON, Nov. 25.

The reception of Com. Wilkes will take place this P. M. at Fanueil Hall. The officers of the San Jacinto will be received at Long Wharf by a body of citizens with music, and escorted to the hall, where congratulations and hand shaking, by the public generally, will constitute the proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.

Joshua R. Giddings, consul general for the British-American Provinces, has accomplished the object of his visit to Washington, namely: The removal of the delays and inconveniences appending to passports to British subjects, on taking passage for Europe, at Portland, Maine.

The government of Italy has adopted the stringent rule of France in regard to vessels depredating on American commerce.

The American consuls are keeping a sharp lookout for the suspicious vessels lately seen at Malta.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.

The information from Neosho is that the rebel congress of this state, after obtaining a quorum by the appointment of proxies, elected John B. Clark, formerly a member of congress from Howard county, P. Ely Pritten of Cass county, senators to the rebel congress. The legislature also appointed members to rebel house of representatives from the different congressional districts of the state, among whom are Emmet McDonald of St. Louis, of habeas corpus notoriety; L. M. McIlhany of Andrews county, and Jos. S. Rains of Jasper county; all of whom are in Price's army.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.

The Richmond papers state that to give the batteries of the forts at Charleston ample time to play upon an attacking fleet, a long chain of massive rafts has lately been stretched across the mouth of the harbor, from Ft. Sumter to Sullivan's Island. This boom is of sufficient strength to fully neutralize the advantage which the Yankees might derive from the speed of their war vessels.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.

The work on the mortar fleet at this point has not been stopped as stated in the Cincinnati Enquirer, but is progressing rapidly, and a boat is expected to be finished this week—the mortars being already cast and awaiting shipment at Pittsburg.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.

The Steamship North Star brings some United States troops and Col. Buchanan, and the following officers: Surgeon McCormick, Major Ketchum, Capts. Wallin, Russel, Davidson and Davis, Assistant Surgeons Litterman and Patten, Lieuts. Scott, Turner, Carlton and Gray. No news of the Sumter, but she is probably near the coast of Venezuela.

The Markets.

A Daring Exploit.—Among the many instances where the bravery of our officers and men have shown conspicuous, the one we are about to relate is almost unequaled: Capt. Spencer, aid to Gen. Wool, received information from two ladies who went from Norfolk to Fortress Monroe with a flag of truce, that near midnight a six-oared boat was to leave Norfolk for Richmond with money for the payment of the rebel soldiers. He requested permission of Major General Wool to attempt their capture, and was told not to place too-much confidence in the information received. Nevertheless, permission was given, and selecting two good oarsmen on whom he could rely, with their oars muffled, he started at dark, and awaited the coming of the enemy's boat. He had previously given direction to his men to pull directly for the boat, and on the moment of striking to "back water instantly. About midnight the boat was heard approaching, and taking his station in the bows, with a 9-inch shell in his hands, he gave the order to "give way." The moment his bows struck the rebel boat he threw the shell into the middle of it, and was himself drawn back, luckily receiving no injury from the explosion. Not so the boat and occupants, however, the former of which was broken in two, and the latter were scattered in all directions in the water, not, however, before discharging their pistols at him, two balls going through his cap and three perforating his coat. The men were then told that if they submitted quietly they would be saved, otherwise he would leave them to their fate. They preferred the former, and arming himself with a pistol in one hand and a dirk (taken by him at the battle of Bull Run from a "secesh") in the other, he took them in his boat one by one, handcuffing them as they were pulled in. In addition to which, from the stern of the enemy's boat, which floated, he took $1,100 in gold, and $5,000 in their worthless paper money. It was with some difficulty that he reached the fort, the gunwale of the boat being almost level with the water, with its increased freight.

Law Affecting Railway Passengers.—A decision has recently been given in the court of appeals in New York, which may prove of interest to those using, or employed on passenger railways. The decision was as follows:

"To eject a passenger from a railroad car while in motion, is so dangerous an act that it may justify the same resistance on the part of the passenger as a direct attempt to take his life.

While the passenger is liable to ejection in a proper manner for refusing to pay fare, his resistance to the attempt to expel him without stopping the car, does not present a case of concurrent negligence on his part.

Where, in such a case, the principal is responsible for the act of his agent, he is, it seems, also responsible for any circumstance of aggravation which attends the wrong.

On this decision a passenger who was ejected from a car while in motion, obtained a verdict of $4,000 against the company."

"Mr. Prentice, the widely known and most loyal senior editor of the Louisville Journal, has a son who is an officer in the rebel army."

The Journal copies the above paragraph and with the true American spirit of sacrifice and patriotism, remarks:

"The sad picture is hardly overdrawn or overcolored. We have labored under every disadvantage which could unnerve patriotism; we have been compelled to wrestle with the holiest instincts of nature, and we have seen our loved and cherished ones seduced by wily traitors from paths of loyalty, and taught to believe that vows of allegiance are of as little regard as lovers' perjuries. Under these discouragements, with the rebel line of attack bulwarked by the breasts of our fathers, brothers, children and friends, and with the certain knowledge that the more glorious our victory, the more desolate will be our once happy homes, Kentucky has shown a Spartan devotedness and the firmness of a Brutus, for every beat of the martial drum re-echoes to her heart like the funeral muffled march, and every order to the charge lacerates as keenly as did the wave of the noble Roman's hand which signalled the fall of the axe upon the neck of his traitor son. Manhood has been severely, terribly tested, and from the fiery furnace of affliction, thank God, Kentucky has come out with her garments of patriotism unsullied."

Horses in a Gale at Sea.—The Great Republic, which sailed with the naval expedition for Port Royal, had 530 horses on board. The conduct of the beasts during the terrible storm of Friday week is thus described by a correspondent of the Tribune:

At 12 M. the wind blew a gale, and continued to increase in violence for 24 hours, some of the waves sweeping clear over our decks and striking the ship with the force of a solid shot. At 8 P. M., for some reason, the Vanderbilt let go our hawsers.—It made fearful commotion among our horses for a few minutes. The effect was like a powerful concussion, throwing the horses out of their equilibrium, and some twenty of them were thrown off their feet. We then began to pitch and roll at a terrible rate, until we got some sails set, which steadied the vessel very much. We held our course S. by W. until 1 o'clock at night when the sailors having hauled the hawser line, making the ship a little more manageable, we "tacked ship" and stood more to the east. Then the ship rolled fearfully, the decks at every roll standing at an angle of 45 degrees. The horses plunged madly, as if they would tear everything loose. Many of them gave utterance to most mortal groans, while others, in their desperation, burried their teeth in the wood of their stalls and mangers. I was below through the whole of it, keeping my men to their duty as well as I could, which was not very well, for they ran for safety every chance they could get. One horse as I stood by him, turned a complete summerset, his head striking where his heels stood. When he came down, the horse next to him kicked him in the head, nearly killing him. I could do nothing but let him struggle till morning, when I had him killed and thrown overboard. Another horse dropped dead without a struggle, and two others were so injured that I had them killed and thrown overboard, making the loss in all that night four horses.

The Richmond Enquirer states that the war has already cost Virginia some $10,000,000; and, judging from the tone of an article in the same journal, it considers the price a heavy one for making itself "the chopping block of the north and south, and cock-pit of contending nations, the Flanders of America."

The Negroes at Port Royal

The N. Y. Times correspondent says:

This account of the feelings of the blacks, and of the attempts of the South Carolinians to compel them to accompany their masters has been confirmed in various quarters, and tallies exactly with what I was told yesterday by some negroes whom I saw at Seabroook, a hamlet about six miles from Hilton Head. At that place some two hundred negroes had gathered during the day, and continued to come in until long after I had left at nightfall. They were men, woman and children, of all ages. All reported the same story, and told it without any apparent concert. They came from across Scull Creek, which divides Hilton Island from the main land; many were from the Pinckney estate, but they came from several plantations, and agreed that their masters had endeavored to take them along in the flight that seems to be general in the whole neighborhood. The negroes, however, assured me that they refused to fly, and in several instances the white men shot at them. I heard of two blacks that were wounded. The rest were indignant; they declared that all would come in to the national forces who could get away; and that none would accompany their masters unless absolutely forced. They manifested the greatest elation at their escape, and like those whom I first questioned, the day after the fight, declared that the whole black population had long expected the coming of the yankees, and were everywhere anxious to hurry to our lines. There was a jubilee last night in the negro quarters at Seabrook, dancing and singing around fires that they built, and inside of the captured Fort Walker, a religious meeting was held and thanks offered to God for their deliverance. A hundred or more are already at work landing the cargoes of the vessels, or assisting in whatever labors are assigned them. There can be no doubt that the negro question is destined immediately to assume in this quarter proportions and aspects utterly unlike any that it has presented elsewhere. The blacks throughout the state will desert their masters wherever our army appears, and if those masters are so insane as to attempt coercion, results appalling to contemplate must ensue. No shadow of inducement has thus far been held out to the slaves by the national forces. They have come to us without any invitation; they express a willingness to work; they have already given valuable information, acted as guides, and in the labors to which they are put, will prove of prodigious assistance. But the utter and speedy annihilation of slavery in South Carolina seems as certain as that these infatuated secessionists continue to hold out against our arms.

Last night I listened to the negroes in a prayer meeting. After a wild melody of some musical composition, slow and solemn, with a deep, long drawn nasal intonation, they "blessed de Lord dey had privileges" now they never thought to enjoy, and hoped the time would soon come when the armies of the north would come south, and turn and overturn till every bondman should be free. The deep religious sentiment of the negroes is marked, and sticks out in their meetings, but, like the Hindoos, they pray and then steal. They are a good deal alarmed about how all this is coming out, but contented to await the dictation of the Lord, who they address as "Sir," and acknowledge His hand in everything, even in stealing.

Murder.—Last night about twelve o'clock (we write on Sunday) a brutal murder was committed on Water street, near R. D. Squires' saloon. The murdered man was named Sylvester Giddings, a married man of about thirty-five years, who lived up the river eight miles, and the murderer is Henry E. Lincoln.

The cause of the affray is difficult to ascertain. The parties had been drinking.—Several persons were present. Scuffling had been going on. Suddenly Lincoln sprang upon the deceased, and dealt him several blows about the head, felling him to the ground, and then kicked him twice or three times. The deceased made no resistance, and scarcely stirred after the first blow.

There is mystery about the affair. The deceased had between two or three hundred dollars in gold that evening, and after the murder but one 2½ piece was found on him.

The sheriff offers $100 reward for the apprehension of the murderer. The following is his description: Sandy complexion, light hair, quite thin on his head, blue eyes, about six feet high, wears whiskers. Had on pants patched above the knee. His movements are quick and restless.—Jackson County Banner.

"No More Slave Catching."—We sincerely trust the determination, said to have been arrived at by Secretary Cameron, that henceforth our soldiers will not be required to turn slave-catchers, will be rigidly adhered to. This degrading office has been already quite too long held by our army. It does not sound well, either at home or abroad, that the armed defenders of this free government—a government which the minions of slavery are attempting to destroy—are acting as special police for the protection of the "peculiar institution."—The eloquent denunciation of this most abject of "dirty work" by George Bancroft, and more recently by John Cochrane, will find hearty endorsement in every manly breast. The country is shamed and mortified at the shabby business, and demands that it shall be stopped.

Gen. Lane, of Kansas, struck the key note of the popular heart, when he declared to his rough followers:—"We march to crush out treason—and let slavery take care of itself." Having provoked and assumed the risks of revolution, slavery must abide the consequences of the rude shock. We cannot stand between it and destruction. We cannot even to please loyal men, afford to stand guard over their human property.

We have other business on hand.—Albany Evening Journal.

My little boy riding home with me one evening, brimful of enthusiasm and fun, having evidently "made a good day of it," broke out in this wise: "Oh! pa! pa! there is such a nice little girl comes to school! little Kate D——. Oh! pa! she's such a nice little girl! I like Katy D——," (and looking me full in the face with a voice slightly lowered, and an earnest motion of the head) "I'd marry her, pa, if I knew how!"

A Masonic Coincidence.—Last spring Hon. Mr. Winthrop, then at Washington, invited Senator Mason to visit Boston.—"Not until I come as an ambassador," was the reply which made the mild-mannered member of the Boohoo committee quake down to his very boot-heels. Well, about this time he is there "as an ambassador," for the San Jacinto must have arrived, and discharged her cargo at Fort Warren. He doubtless remembers his own words, which must strike him as of a prophetic cast. He is an accepted Mason at Fort Warren, even if Col. Dimmick's rules do not allow him to be a free one.

The editor of the Union Democrat, who has had some experience in the pulpit, says:

Some years ago, when folks used to ask us about these things more than now-a-days, a good old lady enquired of us what kind of water longer water was? We replied that we'd never heard of that kind of drink. "Why yes," she said, "Paul cautioned Timothy to drink no longer water, but to take a little wine for his stomach's sake."

Where is Cumberland Gap?—Cumberland Gap is situated about ten miles from Cumberland Ford, in Tennessee, and has been celebrated for a century as a great depression in the mountain ridge which traverses the continent from New Hampshire to North Alabama. Through this gap, very similar in appearance and characteristic to the South Pass in the Rocky Mountains, formerly the emigrants from Virginia and North Carolina passed on their way to the virgin wilds of the west. For half a century thousands upon thousands poured thro' this natural gateway into the Mississippi valley from the Atlantic slopes. Boone, Kenton, and their pioneer confreres, first entered the land of "cane and turkey" over the pre-Adamite turnpike. It really forms to this hour the best, and, in fact, the only practicable road for the transportation of troops and heavy munitions of war from East Tennessee into Kentucky.

Mr. Seward's Position.—A prominent citizen of New York had an interview with Mr. Seward a day or two since, when the question of compromise came up, when Mr. Seward remarked: "With many persons I have the reputation of a compromiser.—Nothing could be more unjust to me. I was the last man in the cabinet to consent to the removal of Gen. Fremont, and I would be the last man to consent to a compromise with the rebels." "Why, then," asked the New Yorker, "do you not take pains to let your opinions be known?" "Because I am willing to trust my reputation with the future," was the reply. "I would like to make this conversation public, for the sake of some of my friends as well as yours," said the citizen, and the secretary replied that he had "no concealments." This conversation accords with other statements respecting Gen. Fremont's removal. Mr. Seward was one of the fast friends of Fremont in the cabinet.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Evening Post.

The extra session of the Legislature of South Carolina, after sitting three days, adjourned sine die on the 6th inst., after choosing presidential electors and ordering the banks to loan the state $300,000. The names of the presidential electors are Henry C. Young, Wm. H. Prescott, Robert F. W. Allston, John S. Palmer, J. Duncan Allen, John C. Hope, T. Edwin Ware and Franklin I. Moses.

Dead.—Hon. Joel B. Sutherland, ex-member of congress, died on Friday night last at Philadelphia.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Jayne's Ague Mixture

Is an infallible remedy for Fever and Ague. The experience of many years in almost every climate proves that where used strictly in accordance with the directions, it has rarely failed to cure,—not only by breaking up the chills, but by removing the morbid habits of the system, preventing a recurrence of the disease.

Fever and ague, though not in itself dangerous, is apt, unless speedily removed, to have such a pernicious effect on the system, as to engender disorders much more baneful than itself, and which not only render the afterlife of the patient miserable, but are in themselves often fatal. A prompt and effectual remedy is therefore what is wanted, and as such DR. D. JAYNE'S AGUE MIXTURE is confidently recommended. For sale by O. B. CURTIS,
Janesville, Wis., and by agents everywhere.

DAILY GAZETTE.

Indorsement of Col. Cochrane's Views by a Kentucky Journal.

[From the Frankfort Commonwealth, November 18.]

The Louisville Democrat is horrified about a recent speech of John Cochrane of New York, in which he favored the confiscation of the slaves of rebels and the policy of employing them against the armies of Jeff Davis.

The policy indicated by Mr. Cochrane is exactly right, and in accordance with the usages of civilized warfare. We hope to see it adopted by the government. It should have been at first. Had it been, many lives of loyal citizens would have been saved that were lost through the wishy-washy and anomalous conduct of the government toward traitors in arms. Since the commencement of this most unnatural war, it has been safer to be a rebel than to be loyal to the government. The extreme punishment of treason has thus far been an "oath of allegiance," which a rebel will take with as much sang froid as he would a gin cocktail. If a loyal man falls into the hands of traitors, his life pays the forfeit. The rebels are daily confiscating the property of union men, and burning and otherwise destroying what they cannot make use of. Yet the Democrat would seem to desire the government to protect the property of these destroyers, and thus prolong the struggle, while its own adherents must pay the expenses of the war which has been forced upon them, and suffer unavenged, the depredations of an organized banditti.

Why should not the slaves of traitors in arms be confiscated to the use of the government? The Democrat will not deny that slaves are property as clearly so as are mules. Is it right and proper to confiscate a mule, and put it to hauling transportation? If it is, why is it not equally right and proper to confiscate a slave for a driver of that mule? Both are property, and both are employed by the rebels in their attempt to destroy this government.

A traitor has no right to claim the protection of the laws of that country he is endeavouring to destroy. If he succeeds in his designs, the country, together with its laws, must go down. If the country succeeds, the traitor must fall. Why, then, fight him with one hand, and sustain him with the other? The position of the Democrat is both untenable and unreasonable.

In the course of an article on the subject, the Democrat says:

"This proposed descent to the level of the rebels in prosecuting war is a disgrace to the government."

Whatever of disgrace attaches to such a policy would attach to the party inaugurating it. We believe in "fighting the devil with fire." The Democrat would probably employ rosewater and jerky editorials on account of the superior respectability of the latter. The rebels employ armed negroes, armed savages; they resort to all sorts of base means, even to piracy upon the high seas. They poison wells, and when they can—as at Guyandotte—they resort to assassination.

Here is an advertisement which appeared in a late number of the Norfolk (Va.) Day Book:

"Attention, Rattlesnakes!—Charge with fell poison, and be prepared to strike. We find many subjects in this town who must receive the force of our renown. Call early at the ball and hear the big snake. Little snakes, keep your eyes open, and bring in the list of those unfriendly to our holy cause. By order of

THE BIG RATTLE."

It is all stuff to talk about fighting such an enemy on "high points." The government has been trying the experiment some eight months, with indifferent success. If we meet a Big Rattle in our path we mash his head, if we can.

The Democrat further says,

"We are aware that the rebels are destroying the property of loyal states and loyal men. There are no base means they do not resort to; but the government has no right to follow the infamous example. It has full power to put down this rebellion without resorting to lawless and revolutionary means. If it has not the power, better give it up than adopt such means."

The Democrat is not as much in love with the Union as we had supposed. While an unscrupulous band of traitors are resorting to all manner of base means, the government must confine itself to what would be strictly lawful under the constitution, before the laws and the constitution were set at defiance by the rebels. It must not use "revolutionary" means to suppress revolution, &c., &c.

The logic of the Democrat is not sound. It amounts in effect to this:

"The rebels have very poor arms, mostly smooth bore and flint locks. The government has flint locks and smooth bores enough to put down this rebellion, and it ought not to employ Sharp's rifles and "coffee mill guns." If the government has not the power to put down this rebellion without resorting to such means, (i. e., taking advantages of the enemy) then it had better give it (the Union, we suppose) up."

With due reference to the superior wisdom of the editor of the Democrat, we must be permitted to remark that this talk about "unlawful and revolutionary means" in putting down the most unrighteous and causeless rebellion that ever existed, strikes us as nonsense of a very high order. The blood of thousands of men, who were called from their peaceful pursuits to resist this rebellion, is now crying from the ground for vengeance. The wails of widows and fatherless children are heard from one end of this broad land to the other. Homes desolated, families broken up, every business pursuit prostrated, and all for what? Because a gang of unscrupulous politicians had lost their hold of the public plunder; because, as they could no longer rule, they determined to ruin. Are they now entitled to any consideration? How can they claim the protection of the laws they willfully broke, or of the laws of nations which they have disregarded, or of the laws of nature which they constantly violate.

Let this barbarous rebellion be crushed out. We care not how, so it be done quickly.

Perfect as is the French system of political espionage, Louis Napoleon's Minister of Police is probably not kept better informed of what is transpiring within his domains, than Sec'y. Seward is of what those who secretly give "aid and comfort" to the rebels are about. The greater portion of the information is given by volunteers, and it requires careful investigation on the part of the clerks who attend to this responsible duty, to guard against revengful or malicious denouncers.

GREAT REDUCTION
—IN—
The Prices
—OF—
SINGER & CO.'S
STANDARD MACHINES,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $75.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the word for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 2 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand; so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the Interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis.

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

DAILY GAZETTE.

Indorsement of Col. Cochrane's Views by a Kentucky Journal.

[From the Frankfort Commonwealth, November 18.]

The Louisville Democrat is horrified about a recent speech of John Cochrane of New York, in which he favored the confiscation of the slaves of rebels and the policy of employing them against the armies of Jeff Davis.

The policy indicated by Mr. Cochrane is exactly right, and in accordance with the usages of civilized warfare. We hope to see it adopted by the government. It should have been at first. Had it been, many lives of loyal citizens would have been saved that were lost through the wishy-washy and anomalous conduct of the government toward traitors in arms. Since the commencement of this most unnatural war, it has been safer to be a rebel than to be loyal to the government. The extreme punishment of treason has thus far been an "oath of allegiance," which a rebel will take with as much sang froid as he would a gin cocktail. If a loyal man falls into the hands of traitors, his life pays the forfeit. The rebels are daily confiscating the property of union men, and burning and otherwise destroying what they cannot make use of. Yet the Democrat would seem to desire the government to protect the property of these destroyers, and thus prolong the struggle, while its own adherents must pay the expenses of the war which has been forced upon them, and suffer unavenged, the depredations of an organized banditti.

Why should not the slaves of traitors in arms be confiscated to the use of the government? The Democrat will not deny that slaves are property as clearly so as are mules. Is it right and proper to confiscate a mule, and put it to hauling transportation? If it is, why is it not equally right and proper to confiscate a slave for a driver of that mule? Both are property, and both are employed by the rebels in their attempt to destroy this government

A traitor has no right to claim the protection of the laws of that country he is endeavouring to destroy. If he succeeds in his designs, the country, together with its laws, must go down. If the country succeeds, the traitor must fall. Why, then, fight him with one hand, and sustain him with the other? The position of the Democrat is both untenable and unreasonable.

In the course of an article on the subject, the Democrat says.

"This proposed descent to the level of the rebels in prosecuting war is a disgrace to the government."

Whatever of disgrace attaches to such a policy would attach to the party inaugurating it. We believe in "fighting the devil with fire." The Democrat would probably employ rosewater and jerky editorials on account of the superior respectability of the latter. The rebels employ armed negroes, armed savages; they resort to all sorts of base means, even to piracy upon the high seas. They poison wells, and when they can—as at Guyandotte—they resort to assassination.

Here is an advertisement which appeared in a late number of the Norfolk (Va.) Day Book.

"Attention, Rattlesnakes!—Charge with hell poison, and be prepared to strike. We find many subjects in this town who must receive the force of our renown. Call early at the hall and hear the big snake Little snakes, keep your eyes open, and bring in the list of those unfriendly to our holy cause. By order of

THE BIG RATTLE."

It is all stuff to talk about fighting such an enemy on "high points." The government has been trying the experiment some eight months, with indifferent success. If we meet a Big Rattle in our path we mash his head, if we can.

The Democrat further says,

"We are aware that the rebels are destroying the property of loyal states and loyal men. There are no base means they do not resort to; but the government has no right to follow the infamous example It has full power to put down this rebellion without resorting to lawless and revolutionary means. If it has not the power, better give it up than adopt such means."

The Democrat is not as much in love with the Union as we had supposed. While an unscrupulous band of traitors are resorting to all manner of base means, the government must confine itself to what would be strictly lawful under the constitution, before the laws and the constitution were set at defiance by the rebels. It must not use "revolutionary" means to suppress revolution, &c., &c.

The logic of the Democrat is not sound. It amounts in effect to this:

"The rebels have very poor arms, mostly smooth bore and flint locks. The government has flint locks and smooth bores enough to put down this rebellion, and it ought not to employ Sharp's rifles and "coffee mill guns." If the government has not the power to put down this rebellion without resorting to such means, (i. e., taking advantages of the enemy) then it had better give it (the Union, we suppose) up."

With due reference to the superior wisdom of the editor of the Democrat, we must be permitted to remark that this talk about "unlawful and revolutionary means" in putting down the most unrighteous and causeless rebellion that ever existed, strikes us as nonsense of a very high order. The blood of thousands of men, who were called from their peaceful pursuits to resist this rebellion, is now crying from the ground for vengeance. The wails of widows and fatherless children are heard from one end of this broad land to the other. Homes desolated, families broken up, every business pursuit prostrated, and all for what? Because a gang of unscrupulous politicians had lost their hold of the public plunder because, as they could no longer rule, they determined to ruin. Are they now entitled to any consideration? How can they claim the protection of the laws they willfully broke, or of the laws of nations which they have disregarded, or of the laws of nature which they constantly violate.

Let this barbarous rebellion be crushed out. We care not how, so it be done quickly.

Perfect as is the French system of political espionage, Louis Napoleon's Minister of Police is probably not kept better informed of what is transpiring within his domains, than Sec'y. Seward is of what those who secretly give "aid and comfort" to the rebels are about. The greater portion of the information is given by volunteers, and it requires careful investigation on the part of the clerks who attend to this responsible duty, to guard against revengeful or malicious denouncers.

The Nos 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes

Our No. [illegible] machines are specially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc, etc They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dash. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmer's stitching, that cannot be better done with them than by hand [illegible] the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches [illegible] and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes They embody the principles of the standard machine making, like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be a celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE, which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper It will be sent Gratis

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the twofold view of benefitting, the public and ourselves The public have been swindled by spurious machines [illegible] imitation of ours The metal in them, from the frame casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. The makers have not the means to do their work well They [illegible] in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments that [illegible] machines can be made at moderate prices [illegible] designed machines Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether imitations of ours or not In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

Our Neighbors in Canada.

A friend in Canada forwards us some of their newspapers, for the purpose, we suppose, of informing us what is said about the rebellion. The Toronto Globe has an article condemning in strong terms the arrest of Mason and Slidell on board the British steamer Trent. It takes the position that the deck of a vessel is as sacred as the soil of the country where it belongs, and that if they permit search and seizure on their vessels, neutral territory could be searched as well. Doubtless this is true to some extent, especially on the boundary lines of different countries. Our Canadian neighbors must remember that they did not scruple to exercise this power during the rebellion in their own provinces in 1837-8.—Their military officers sent an expedition to Schlosser, on the Niagara river, one night, and forcibly seized the American steamer Caroline, drove off the crew, killing one man, setting fire to the boat and let it drift over Niagara Falls. Instead of apologizing for this invasion of neutral territory, they justified it, and the government of Great Britain took upon itself the responsibility of the act. Inasmuch as the Caroline was probably engaged in aiding the "patriots," our government did not press the matter; but it was a far more outrageous proceeding on the part of the English authorities, than the stopping of the steamer Trent and taking two criminals from on board, who were leaving the country for the avowed purpose of securing aid for their treason. We do not regard a vessel at sea, on the common highway of nations, exactly in the same light as the territory of a nation. There must be a greater latitude for examination into the character of a vessel than would be allowed to persons on land, in the midst of a neutral country, where the regular proceedings of law can at all times be enforced.

The other Canadian papers received are even more unfriendly than the Globe. The Peterboro Review, a ministerial paper, has a most virulent article, condemning the the north and the efforts of the national government to suppress the rebellion, but not a word against the bloody scoundrels who commenced this causeless rebellion.—This paper even declares that the success of the north would be the worst thing that could happen to America, while the independence of the south "will be the most for the advantage of mankind, even should the slavery of the negro race be continued." This latter declaration shows what sincerity there has been in the abolition sentiments of the English government. As long as they could annoy and trouble us about slavery, they were loud in their denunciation of it, but now that slavery seeks to divide, and weaken us by disunion, these same English philanthropists are found aiding and abetting the rebel slave holders—those whom they denounced as pirates and fillibusters, are screened and protected in every possible way. "Perfidious Albion" was written long ago, but it is as true to-day as ever.

The Millbrook, C. W., Chronicle also gives a truthful paragraph about "fifty thousand" sailors and fifteen thousand soldiers in "fifty large men-of-war" taking Port Royal, and "succeeding in defeating 4,000 confederates, which was not much to boast of." It is not necessary to reply to such sneers; they deceive only those who desire to believe its implied falsehoods. It is only important as showing the feeling towards us, manifested by some of the Canadian press. We do not believe the people of Canada, a majority of them, are unfriendly to us, but the pimps of the English government are those who talk in this way; that government which keeps Canadian commerce and manufactures down that England may do all that business herself; which compels Canada to produce the raw material while English ships and English manufacturers do the rest of the work. If Canadians are content to drag along, without enterprise and without progress, the menials of a British aristocracy, let them do it. We have not a word to say to persuade them to take a different course. But when these seedy provincials sneer at us in our troubles, and sympathise with a slave holder's rebellion, merely because they expect smiles from their oppressive government beyond the sea, in which they have no voice, we look upon them with pity.—We have our misfortunes and trouble here, growing out of the legacy of slavery, left us by England, but we shall get rid of it, and be stronger for the struggle. In the meantime, we ask no sympathy from any but the genuine friends of a republican government; let others sneer, and cavil, and denounce us, as they please. They day will come when Canada will be a part of us—a portion of the grand and free Republic of North America. We bide our time.

Health of Gen. Houston.—The Galveston Civilian says that, "at last accounts, Gen. Houston was slowly recovering, and was deemed out of danger."

John Brown's sharp-shooters have arrived at Leavenworth, Kansas, and have joined Col. Jennison's regiment.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

Second Cavalry.—Levi Sterling, of Mineral Point, has been appointed third major in Col. Washburne's regiment.

Pier Gone at Port Washington.—The late storm took with it about two-thirds of the south pier at Port Washington. It was owned by Messrs. Silverman & Curtis.

Donations for the Family of Jackson.—The Richmond Examiner of the 14th, states that the donations for the family of Jackson, the murderer of Ellsworth, now reach $30,000.

A Useful Bird.—"On the Edinburgh & Glasgow railroad, a trained parrot is kept at every station to call out the name of the place at the arrival of trains. They pronounce it so as to be heard and understood, which is more than the conductors have heretofore done." A very smart satire upon official negligence. Few who have travelled but have also been puzzled at the cabalistic words in which conductors sometimes announce a station.—Balt. Sun.

In Madison county, Illinois, a few days ago, a crazy German named Fribert, who had lost his reason on the death of wife, shot dead his four children and then blew his own brains out.

The Seneca Falls Knitting Mills, now engaged on government contracts, employs between three and four thousand men and women, and yet this force is inadequate to meet the demand.

Samuel Dickinson of Sanilac, Michigan, enlisted in Capt. Huckins' company. It takes two to make a bargain, and Samuel's wife wasn't agreeable at such an act of patriotism. Samuel was asleep that night she hacked off two of his fingers with a chisel and block. This was a loud call to Samuel to stay at home and Capt. Huckins saw the point of it.

Official Votes.—Clark county gives Harvey 175, Ferguson 26—maj. 149.—Douglas, Harvey 51, Ferguson 41—maj. 10. Dunn, Harvey 490, Ferguson 7—maj. 483. This leaves Ashland, Burnett, Dallas, Eau Claire, Kewaunee, La Fayette and La Pointe to be heard from officially. No reports whatever have been received from Burnett and Dallas. Ashland is reported at 25 majority for Harvey, Eau Claire at 210, Kewaunee at 200, La Pointe at 40, La Fayette is reported at 386 for Ferguson. In round numbers, the majorities will be about as follows:

Harvey	8,500
Salomon	5,800
Lewis	11,000
Hastings	12,800
Howe	12,000
Pickard	9,500
Ramsay	7,500
Hodges	7,700

J. G. McKindley gets a little over 1,000 votes for state superintendent, and Wm. C. Allen nearly 5,000 for lieutenant governor on the union ticket.

☞ If a score of the best daguerrean artists in the country had experimented for a life-like portrait, no one of them could have succeeded better than the Albany Journal. It says:

"Of Mason, it is sufficient to say, that he is the type of the worst breed of southern aristocrats:—a braggart without courage—a snob without breeding—a bully without the graces of his class. Dull of eye and dull of wit—pompous, conceited, shallow—he adds to the depravity of the traitor the ignoble attributes of the spy. A secessionists from the beginning, he did not scruple to hold the seat and draw the pay of a senator, in order the better to betray the government he had sworn to support."

Portrait of Lord Palmerston.—Fancy a man of seventy-six, who has been in most incessant political life for more than fifty years, sitting out a debate of ten hours without flinching, and then walking to his house in Piccadilly, not less than two miles. And his body is not more active than his mind. Not a word escapes him when a prominent man is on his legs. Do not be deceived by his lazy attitude or his sleepy expression. Not a man in the house has his wits more thoroughly about him. Ever ready to extricate his colleagues from an awkward difficulty, to evade a dangerous question—making, with an air of transparent candor, a reply in which nothing is answered—to disarm an angry opponent with a few conciliatory or complimentary words, or to demolish him with a little good humored raillery which sets the house in a roar; equally skillful in attack and retreat; such, in a word, is the bearing of this gay and gallant veteran, from the beginning to the end of each debate, during the entire session of parliament.

He seems absolutely insensible to fatigue. "I happened," said a member of the house, writing to a friend, last summer, "to follow Lord Palmerston, as he left the cloak-room, the other morning, after a late sitting, and, as I was going his way, I thought I might as well see how he got over the ground. At first he seemed a little stiff in the legs; but when he warmed to his work he began to pull out, and before he got a third of the way he bowled along splendidly, so that he put me to it to keep him in view. Perhaps in a few hours after that long sitting and that walk home, and the brief sleep that followed, the premier might have been seen standing bolt upright at one end of a great table in Cambridge House, receiving a deputation from the country, listening with patient and courteous attention to some tedious spokesman, or astonishing his hearers by his knowledge of their affairs and his intimacy with their trade or business."

Butler's Troops En Route.—The programme for the departure of the first 3,000 men of Gen. Butler's New England division, was agreeably filled on Wednesday. The mammoth steamer Constitution, the largest vessel ever seen in Boston harbor, took on board the 26th Massachusetts and 9th Connecticut, and moving thence to Portland, received the 12th Maine, making the complement for her first voyage to Port Royal. The other 3,000 will be ready for the return trip of the steamer.

The Tables Turned.—J. M. Mason and Jeff. Davis were a majority of the committee, and made the majority report in the Harper's Ferry investigation case.

Senator Mason reported that John Brown's raid "was intended to subvert the government of the United States," that it was "attended by armed resistance to the authorities and public force of the United States."

Now, Mr. Mason, what have you been doing? John Brown, a good deal better man than you ever dared be, was hung. What shall be done with Jim. Mason?—Leavenworth Conservator.

The B's.—Beaufort is a set-off to Bull Run, Big Bethel, and Ball's Bluff. The naval expedition has redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled the B's, and the second letter of the alphabet is again worthy of our esteem.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

Washington, Nov. 24.

Tribune's special.—The reports of the Secretaries approach completion; the great interest which the war will give to that of the Secretary of war will be heightened by Mr. Cameron's distinct avowal of his policy of placing arms in the hands of slaves willing to use them for the cause of the Union. He will support this by argument and historical references, and so show that his leading position upon this vital question has been as deliberately as strongly taken, as a foretaste of the administration hereafter of the war department until the close of this rebellion. The public will learn with interest that Mr. Cameron will appeal to congress and to the governors of the states for authority to bind the government to practice the closest economy, and will strictly require economy and accountability from every subordinate in the war bureau, and the army in the field; enormous as the war is and will be, they will not be permitted to plunder either the government or the people. Mr. Cameron's report will also probably contain reccommendations that will go far to abolish the distinction between regulars and volunteers. Among these will be the repeal of the regulation which confers rank on the regular officer over the volunteer of the same grade, leaving it to be determined by seniority according to date of commission.

Secretary Chase's report will recommend, necessarily, a large increase of revenue duties. The necessities of the treasury during the war, will require that the tariff be so shaped as to produce the greatest possible amount of income. Large incidental protection to American manufacturers will, of course, be the consequence. Upon the vital idea of the war, it is said that Mr. Chase will fully develop the theory that the slaves in the rebel states should be employed under wages to raise cotton, sugar, rice and tobacco, for government account. This policy has already been established by Mr. Cameron in regard to the ungathered sea island cotton in Beaufort. The nation will heartily approve its recommendation by Mr. Chase to congress, as a wiser disposition of the slaves than to leave them in the rear of our armies, roaming at large, pillaging and marauding.

Samuel A. Purviance, of Pennsylvania, recently appointed consul general to Cuba, has declined.

A scouting party of 150 cavalry sent out by Gen. McCall to-day, went as far as Drainsville, about half way from his camp to Leesburgh, and returned without seeing any signs of the enemy.

Times' dispatch.—Capt. Thomas, of the quarter master's department, has now 260,000 army coats and pants stored in Corcoran's building. Yesterday an entire brigade of 4,000 men, were furnished with pants in two hours.

Herald's dispatch.—The expedition which left some days ago, down the Potomac, returned this morning with six political prisoners, arrested in St. Marys, Maryland. It appears that these parties are a portion of a secret organization for the purpose of conveying men and arms to the rebel government. A large quantity of arms was discovered and seized. A rebel spy was also arrested who had just returned from the other side, who had left Richmond the day before. Many valuable letters and papers were found on his person.

The expedition also seized a large quantity of contraband correspondence, which was found in the several post-offices in lower Maryland. They discovered the channel through which the rebels have been receiving northern papers and other important information.

Detroit, Nov. 23.

The steamer Key Stone State bound hence for Milwaukee, 8th inst., is believed to have gone down with all on board. She was last seen in a gale, apparently disabled, and pieces of wreck supposed to belong to her have since been picked up on Lake Huron.

Rolla, Nov. 22.

McCulloch with a large force is now encamped between Springfield and Lebanon. His pickets extended last night over a space of 15 miles this side of Lebanon.—This is reliable. It was rumored in camp last night that the advance of the rebel army, 8,000 strong, was at the Gasconade, about 13 miles west of here. This however is not credited.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

Baltimore, Nov. 25.

The Richmond Enquirer says that the confederate congress has passed a bill for the removal of the capital from Richmond to Nashville, and that congress will soon assemble there.

Boston, Nov. 25.

The reception of Com. Wilkes will take place this P. M. at Faneuil Hall. The officers of the San Jacinto will be received at Long Wharf by a body of citizens with music, and escorted to the hall, where congratulations and hand shaking, by the public generally, will constitute the proceedings.

Washington, Nov. 25.

Joshua R. Giddings, consul general for the British-American Provinces, has accomplished the object of his visit to Washington, namely: The removal of the delays and inconveniences appending to passports to British subjects, on taking passage for Europe, at Portland, Maine.

The government of Italy has adopted the stringent rule of France in regard to vessels depredating on American commerce.

The American consuls are keeping a sharp lookout for the suspicious vessels lately seen at Malta.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.

The information from Neosho is that the rebel congress of this state, after obtaining a quorum by the appointment of proxies, elected John B. Clark, formerly a member of congress from Howard county, P. Ely Pritten of Cass county, senators to the rebel congress. The legislature also appointed members to rebel house of representatives from the different congressional districts of the state, among whom are Emmet McDonald of St. Louis, of habeas corpus notoriety; L. M. McIlhany of Andrews county, and Jos. S. Rains of Jasper county; all of whom are in Price's army.

New York, Nov. 25.

The Richmond papers state that to give the batteries of the forts at Charleston ample time to play upon an attacking fleet, a long chain of massive rafts has lately been stretched across the mouth of the harbor, from Ft. Sumter to Sullivan's Island. This boom is of sufficient strength to fully neutralize the advantage which the Yankees might derive from the speed of their war vessels.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.

The work on the mortar fleet at this point has not been stopped as stated in the Cincinnati Enquirer, but is progressing rapidly, and a boat is expected to be finished this week—the mortars being already cast and awaiting shipment at Pittsburg.

New York, Nov. 25.

The Steamship North Star brings some United States troops and Col. Buchanan, and the following officers: Surgeon McCormick, Major Ketchum, Capts. Wallin, Russel, Davidson and Davis, Assistant Surgeons Litterman and Patten, Lieuts. Scott, Turner, Carlton and Gray. No news of the Sumter, but she is probably near the coast of Venezuela.

The Markets.

A Daring Exploit.—Among the many instances where the bravery of our officers and men have shown conspicuous, the one we are about to relate is almost unequaled: Capt. Spencer, aid to Gen. Wool, received information from two ladies who went from Norfolk to Fortress Monroe with a flag of truce, that near midnight a six-oared boat was to leave Norfolk for Richmond with money for the payment of the rebel soldiers. He requested permission of Major General Wool to attempt their capture, and was told not to place too-much confidence in the information received. Nevertheless, permission was given, and selecting two good oarsmen on whom he could rely, with their oars muffled, he started at dark, and awaited the coming of the enemy's boat. He had previously given direction to his men to pull directly for the boat, and on the moment of striking to "back water instantly. About midnight the boat was heard approaching, and taking his station in the bows, with a 9-inch shell in his hands, he gave the order to "give way." The moment his bows struck the rebel boat he threw the shell into the middle of it, and was himself drawn back, luckily receiving no injury from the explosion. Not so the boat and occupants, however, the former of which was broken in two, and the latter were scattered in all directions in the water, not, however, before discharging their pistols at him, two balls going through his cap and three perforating his coat. The men were then told that if they submitted quietly they would be saved, otherwise he would leave them to their fate. They preferred the former, and arming himself with a pistol in one hand and a dirk (taken by him at the battle of Bull Run from a "secesh") in the other, he took them in his boat one by one, handcuffing them as they were pulled in. In addition to which, from the stern of the enemy's boat, which floated, he took $1,100 in gold, and $5,000 in their worthless paper money. It was with some difficulty that he reached the fort, the gunwale of the boat being almost level with the water, with its increased freight.

Law Affecting Railway Passengers.—A decision has recently been given in the court of appeals in New York, which may prove of interest to those using, or employed on passenger railways. The decision was as follows:

"To eject a passenger from a railroad car while in motion, is so dangerous an act that it may justify the same resistance on the part of the passenger as a direct attempt to take his life.

While the passenger is liable to ejection in a proper manner for refusing to pay fare, his resistance to the attempt to expel him without stopping the car, does not present a case of concurrent negligence on his part.

Where, in such a case, the principal is responsible for the act of his agent, he is, it seems, also responsible for any circumstance of aggravation which attends the wrong.

On this decision a passenger who was ejected from a car while in motion, obtained a verdict of $4,000 against the company."

"Mr. Prentice, the widely known and most loyal senior editor of the Louisville Journal, has a son who is an officer in the rebel army."

The Journal copies the above paragraph and with the true American spirit of sacrifice and patriotism, remarks:

"The sad picture is hardly overdrawn or overcolored. We have labored under every disadvantage which could unnerve patriotism; we have been compelled to wrestle with the holiest instincts of nature, and we have seen our loved and cherished ones seduced by wily traitors from paths of loyalty, and taught to believe that vows of allegiance are of as little regard as lovers' perjuries. Under these discouragements, with the rebel line of attack bulwarked by the breasts of our fathers, brothers, children and friends, and with the certain knowledge that the more glorious our victory, the more desolate will be our once happy homes, Kentucky has shown a Spartan devotedness and the firmness of a Brutus, for every beat of the martial drum re-echoes to her heart like the funeral muffled march, and every order to the charge lacerates us keenly as did the wave of the noble Roman's hand which signalled the fall of the axe upon the neck of his traitor son. Manhood has been severely, terribly tested, and from the fiery furnace of affliction, thank God, Kentucky has come out with her garments of patriotism unsullied."

Horses in a Gale at Sea.—The Great Republic, which sailed with the naval expedition for Port Royal, had 530 horses on board, The conduct of the beasts during the terrible storm of Friday week is thus described by a correspondent of the Tribune:

At 12 M. the wind blew a gale, and continued to increase in violence for 24 hours, some of the waves sweeping clear over our decks and striking the ship with the force of a solid shot. At 8 P. M., for some reason, the Vanderbilt let go our hawsers.—It made fearful commotion among our horses for a few minutes. The effect was like a powerful concussion, throwing the horses out of their equilibrium, and some twenty of them were thrown off their feet. We then began to pitch and roll at a terrible rate, until we got some sails set, which steadied the vessel very much. We held our course S. by W. until 1 o'clock at night when the sailors having hauled the hawser line, making the ship a little more manageable, we "tacked ship" and stood more to the east. Then the ship rolled fearfully, the decks at every roll standing at an angle of 45 degrees. The horses plunged madly, as if they would tear everything loose. Many of them gave utterance to most mortal groans, while others, in their desperation, burried their teeth in the wood of their stalls and mangers. I was below through the whole of it, keeping my men to their duty as well as I could, which was not very well, for they ran for safety every chance they could get. One horse as I stood by him, turned a complete summerset, his head striking where his heels stood. When he came down, the horse next to him kicked him in the head, nearly killing him. I could do nothing but let him struggle till morning, when I had him killed and thrown overboard. Another horse dropped dead without a struggle, and two others were so injured that I had them killed and thrown overboard, making the loss in all that night four horses.

The Richmond Enquirer states that the war has already cost Virginia some $10,000,000; and, judging from the tone of an article in the same journal, it considers the price a heavy one for making itself "the chopping block of the north and south, and cock-pit of contending nations, the Flanders of America."

The Negroes at Port Royal

The N. Y. Times correspondent says:

This account of the feelings of the blacks, and of the attempts of the South Carolinians to compel them to accompany their masters has been confirmed in various quarters, and tallies exactly with what I was told yesterday by some negroes whom I saw at Seabroook, a hamlet about six miles from Hilton Head. At that place some two hundred negroes had gathered during the day, and continued to come in until long after I had left at nightfall. They were men, woman and children, of all ages. All reported the same story, and told it without any apparent concert. They came from across Scull Creek, which divides Hilton Island from the main land; many were from the Pinckney estate, but they came from several plantations, and agreed that their masters had endeavored to take them along in the flight that seems to be general in the whole neighborhood. The negroes, however, assured me that they refused to fly, and in several instances the white men shot at them. I heard of two blacks that were wounded. The rest were indignant; they declared that all would come in to the national forces who could get away; and that none would accompany their masters unless absolutely forced. They manifested the greatest elation at their escape, and like those whom I first questioned, the day after the fight, declared that the whole black population had long expected the coming of the yankees, and were everywhere anxious to hurry to our lines. There was a jubilee last night in the negro quarters at Seabrook, dancing and singing around fires that they built, and inside of the captured Fort Walker, a religious meeting was held and thanks offered to God for their deliverance. A hundred or more are already at work landing the cargoes of the vessels, or assisting in whatever labors are assigned them. There can be no doubt that the negro question is destined immediately to assume in this quarter proportions and aspects utterly unlike any that it has presented elsewhere. The blacks throughout the state will desert their masters wherever our army appears, and if those masters are so insane as to attempt coercion, results appalling to contemplate must ensue. No shadow of inducement has thus far been held out to the slaves by the national forces. They have come to us without any invitation; they express a willingness to work; they have already given valuable information, acted as guides, and in the labors to which they are put, will prove of prodigious assistance. But the utter and speedy annihilation of slavery in South Carolina seems as certain as that these infatuated secessionists continue to hold out against our arms.

Last night I listened to the negroes in a prayer meeting. After a wild melody of some musical composition, slow and solemn, with a deep, long drawn nasal intonation, they "blessed de Lord dey had privileges" now they never thought to enjoy, and hoped the time would soon come when the armies of the north would come south, and turn and overturn till every bondman should be free. The deep religious sentiment of the negroes is marked, and sticks out in their meetings, but, like the Hindoos, they pray and then steal. They are a good deal alarmed about how all this is coming out, but contented to await the dictation of the Lord, who they address as "Sir," and acknowledge His hand in everything, even in stealing.

Murder.—Last night about twelve o'clock (we write on Sunday) a brutal murder was committed on Water street, near R. D. Squires' saloon. The murdered man was named Sylvester Giddings, a married man of about thirty-five years, who lived up the river eight miles, and the murderer is Henry E. Lincoln.

The cause of the affray is difficult to ascertain. The parties had been drinking.—Several persons were present. Scuffling had been going on. Suddenly Lincoln sprang upon the deceased, and dealt him several blows about the head, felling him to the ground, and then kicked him twice or three times. The deceased made no resistance, and scarcely stirred after the first blow.

There is mystery about the affair. The deceased had between two or three hundred dollars in gold that evening, and after the murder but one 2½ piece was found on him.

The sheriff offers $100 reward for the apprehension of the murderer. The following is his description: Sandy complexion, light hair, quite thin on his head, blue eyes, about six feet high, wears whiskers. Had on pants patched above the knee. His movements are quick and restless.—Jackson County Banner.

"No More Slave Catching."—We sincerely trust the determination, said to have been arrived at by Secretary Cameron, that henceforth our soldiers will not be required to turn slave-catchers, will be rigidly adhered to. This degrading office has been already quite too long held by our army. It does not sound well, either at home or abroad, that the armed defenders of this free government—a government which the minions of slavery are attempting to destroy—are acting as special police for the protection of the "peculiar institution."—The eloquent denunciation of this most abject of "dirty work" by George Bancroft, and more recently by John Cochrane, will find hearty endorsement in every manly breast. The country is shamed and mortified at the shabby business, and demands that it shall be stopped.

Gen. Lane, of Kansas, struck the key note of the popular heart, when he declared to his rough followers:—"We march to crush out treason—and let slavery take care of itself." Having provoked and assumed the risks of revolution, slavery must abide the consequences of the rude shock. We cannot stand between it and destruction. We cannot even to please loyal men, afford to stand guard over their human property. We have other business on hand.—Albany Evening Journal.

My little boy riding home with me one evening, brimful of enthusiasm and fun, having evidently "made a good day of it," broke out in this wise: "Oh! pa! pa! there is such a nice little girl comes to school! little Kate D——. Oh! pa! she's such a nice little girl! I like Katy D——," (and looking me full in the face with a voice slightly lowered, and an earnest motion of the head) "I'd marry her, pa, if I knew how!"

A Masonic Coincidence.—Last spring Hon. Mr. Winthrop, then at Washington, invited Senator Mason to visit Boston.—"Not until I come as an ambassador," was the reply which made the mild-mannered member of the Boohoo committee quake down to his very boot-heels. Well, about this time he is there "as an ambassador," for the San Jacinto must have arrived, and discharged her cargo at Fort Warren. He doubtless remembers his own words, which must strike him as of a prophetic cast. He is an accepted Mason at Fort Warren, even if Col. Dimmick's rules do not allow him to be a free one.

The editor of the Union Democrat, who has had some experience in the pulpit, says: Some years ago, when folks used to ask us about these things more than now-a-days, a good old lady enquired of us what kind of water longer water was? We replied that we'd never heard of that kind of drink. "Why yes," she said, "Paul cautioned Timothy to drink no longer water, but to take a little wine for his stomach's sake."

Where is Cumberland Gap?—Cumberland Gap is situated about ten miles from Cumberland Ford, in Tennessee, and has been celebrated for a century as a great depression in the mountain ridge which traverses the continent from New Hampshire to North Alabama. Through this gap, very similar in appearance and characteristic to the South Pass in the Rocky Mountains, formerly the emigrants from Virginia and North Carolina passed on their way to the virgin wilds of the west. For half a century thousands upon thousands poured thro' this natural gateway into the Mississippi valley from the Atlantic slopes. Boone, Kenton, and their pioneer confreres, first entered the land of "cane and turkey" over the pre-Adamite turnpike. It really forms to this hour the best, and, in fact, the only practicable road for the transportation of troops and heavy munitions of war from East Tennessee into Kentucky.

Mr. Seward's Position.—A prominent citizen of New York had an interview with Mr. Seward a day or two since, when the question of compromise came up, when Mr. Seward remarked: "With many persons I have the reputation of a compromiser.—Nothing could be more unjust to me. I was the last man in the cabinet to consent to the removal of Gen. Fremont, and I would be the last man to consent to a compromise with the rebels." "Why, then," asked the New Yorker, "do you not take pains to let your opinions be known?" "Because I am willing to trust my reputation with the future," was the reply. "I would like to make this conversation public, for the sake of some of my friends as well as yours," said the citizen, and the secretary replied that he had "no concealments." This conversation accords with other statements respecting Gen. Fremont's removal. Mr. Seward was one of the fast friends of Fremont in the cabinet.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Evening Post.

The extra session of the Legislature of South Carolina, after sitting three days, adjourned sine die on the 6th inst., after choosing presidential electors and ordering the banks to loan the state $300,000. The names of the presidential electors are Henry C. Young, Wm. H. Prescott, Robert F. W. Allston, John S. Palmer, J. Duncan Allen, John C. Hope, T. Edwin Ware and Franklin I. Moses.

Dead.—Hon. Joel B. Sutherland, ex-member of congress, died on Friday night last at Philadelphia.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Jayne's Ague Mixture

Is an infallible remedy for Fever and Ague. The experience of many years in almost every climate proves that where used strictly in accordance with the directions, it has rarely failed to cure,—not only by breaking up the chills, but by removing the morbid habits of the system, preventing a recurrence of the disease.

Fever and Ague, though not in itself dangerous, is apt, unless speedily removed, to have such a pernicious effect on the system, as to engender disorders much more baneful than itself, and which not only render the afterlife of the patient miserable, but are in themselves often fatal. A prompt and effectual remedy is therefore what is wanted, and as such Dr. D JAYNE'S AGUE MIXTURE is confidently recommended. For sale by G. R. CURTIS,

A New Arrangement.

On the 1st of next January a change will be made in the proprietorship of the Gazette Office by the withdrawal of Mr. Bowen. This change will render absolutely necessary a settlement of the subscriptions and other accounts due the present firm. We hope our friends will give this matter their immediate attention, and leave as few debts as possible for settlement after the change is made. It will be easier and better to all concerned to settle before that time, as a settlement must be made.

WOOD! WOOD!

Subscribers to the daily or weekly Gazette who wish to pay in Wood, are requested to furnish it now. Any number of new subscriptions can be paid in this way.

To Our Debtors.

It will be seen by a notice in another column, that on the first of January next there will be a change in the proprietorship of the Gazette. The NECESSITY of a settlement of ALL our accounts will be apparent to all who will give the subject their attention, and as our own convenience will be materially promoted by a settlement before the dissolution of the partnership, and the interest of no debtor will be injured by doing in season what must come at last, we hope there will be no request or attempt at delay. Mr. Wilcox will devote his time to this matter, and as there are a large number of persons to settle with, let each one be prepared when called on. No one will be turned out of the office if he calls here for that purpose.

Notice, Ladies.—The ladies of Janesville and vicinity are requested to meet at Lappin's Hall to-morrow (Tuesday) at 10 o'clock A. M., to complete the arrangements for the Thanksgiving dinner at Camp Tredway on Thursday next.

By order of Committee

☞ There will be a thanksgiving dinner at Camp Tredway next Thursday at 1 o'clock P. M. We hope the people of the county will give such a response to the appeal of the ladies as will be worthy of "Old Rock" and the cause.

It is a happy idea and we expect to see such a display of turkeys, chickens, pies, doughnuts, and the etcetras, as was never exhibited in the state. Let there be a hecatomb of good things, it will send joy to a thousand hearts, and be the occasion of a renewal of friendship and good feeling among the citizens of the county generally. We endorse it with all our heart.

Arrival.—A despatch dated St. Louis 22d, says—"The steamers A. Hines and Desmoines arrives to-day with the thirteenth Iowa regiment. The eleventh Wisconsin regiment came in early this morning. Both have gone to Benton barracks."

Camp Tredway, Nov. 25.

We are indebted to Mrs. S. Thomson and Miss Clarrie Mills, of Sharon, for thirteen "huzzahs," for the benefit of those of the company who are so unfortunate as to have no mother, sister or wife to supply them one. We assure you ladies we appreciate your useful present, and when absent from friends and home, we shall remember you with feelings of gratitude. We sincerely thank you and hope that company C will so do its duty in defending the stars and stripes, as to amply repay you for your kindness. JOHN C. FISH,

2d Lieut. Commanding Co. C.

The Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company have opened rooms in Jackman's Block, where their celebrated machines are kept for sale. Persons wishing to purchase sewing machines will find it to their interest to examine these machines, as they give you a choice of machines making either stitch. Grover & Baker are manufacturing the best lock stitch machine in use in addition to their unrivalled Grover & Baker patent stitch machine, which have been awarded the first premium over all others at every state fair this year. Ladies call and see for yourself. dawlt

Military Items.—F. R. Beogas and Hans Hansen are commissioned captain and 1st lieutenant of the Norway Bear Hunters, and they are ordered to leave Waterford for Camp Randall on the 25th of November.

Thomas Derry, J. D. Welch and James Campbell are commissioned captain and lieutenants of 3d Wisconsin Cavalry.

Gilbert L. Park and Jeremiah D. Rogers are commissioned lieutenants, and appointed adjutant and quartermaster of the 18th regiment.

Selling of Banking Securities.—Bank Comptroller VanSteenwyk has been in New York for some time past disposing of the securities of the discredited banks of this state. The New York papers notice the sale of a large lot last Tuesday.

We observe that North Carolina bonds sold at from 56 to 70 cents; Wisconsin 6s of 1853 at par; Tennessee's at 43¾ a 44½; Missouri's 44½ a 49¾.

The Bank Comptroller was expected home Saturday evening, and a full official statement of the sales will be given on the first of next month.

☞ Daniels' cavalry regiment passed through this city Saturday night.

Thanksgiving at Camp Tredway.

The ladies of Janesville having resolved to give the soldiers of the 13th regiment a thanksgiving dinner, beg the co-operation of their patriotic sisters and the citizens of Rock county generally.

This is one of those acts that brings a two-fold blessing. It is a joy to those that give and to those who receive. These brave men who have taken their lives in their hands to defend us, our interest and our honor, are not a mercenary soldiery, fighting merely for pay; they are our neighbors, our fathers, our husbands, our brothers and our sons, and have assumed the panoply of war from the sternest sense of duty. They are showing themselves worthy of their country and of being called men; let us show our appreciation of their noble sacrifices, and prove ourselves worthy of being their mothers and their sisters. Heaven has blessed us with plenty and these brave men who are so soon to go forth to battle, God knows when, if ever, to return, may have occasion to be thankful also. Let next Thursday be made a holiday for the whole county. Let us meet in grand and joyous assembly and offer bounteous sacrifice upon the altar of Friendship, of Patriotism and Brotherly Love.

Committee Ladies Aid Society.

Janesville, Nov. 25, 1861.

Company C.—This company in the 13th regiment was recruited in the town of Sharon, Walworth county, under the name of "Sharon Rifles," by its captain, Augustus [illegible] Kammel. The commission was issued to Capt. K. on the 2d of September, and on the 15th of October he was in camp with 95 men. Nearly all these men are residents of the town of Sharon, and about 100 had been previously enlisted from that town, a considerable number of them going into Illinois companies, for which that state is now boasting as its own citizens. Well done, Sharon.

Wisconsin Regiments.—A correspondent of the Madison Journal writing from Washington on the 18th, gives some information as to several of the Wisconsin regiments in the region of the Potomac. All except a portion of the 7th have received their new uniforms. The week previous, three men belonging to the 7th died, and one from the 5th, one in the former from small pox and two from typhoid fever. The wife of Sergeant Williams, of Company I, 7th regiment, (from Waushara county,) died in camp, of typhoid fever, on Sunday morning, the 10th inst. She was sick but eight days. Lieut. Col. Sweet, of the 6th, had been confined to his quarters for some days, with premonitions of typhoid fever, but was better, and it was hoped he would soon be out again. Col. Cutler was acting as Brigadier General for a few days, in the absence of Gen. King, who had been to New York. Dr. Chapman, Brigade Surgeon, had been sick for some time, but continued the discharge of his arduous duties until the 18th, when he yielded to necessity and the recommendation of his friends, and obtained leave of absence to recruit. He left for home the 19th. Col. Vandor has not yet resigned, but does not pretend to command his regiment or even visit them. Adjutant Cook was confined to his quarters in consequence of a fracture of his ancle and will be unable to mount his horse for several weeks to come. Lieut. Bailey, of company E., was acting in his place. Col. O'Connor is not able to be in command of his regiment yet, and Lieut. Col. Fairchild was, as he has been most of the time since his appointment, the acting Colonel. Gen. Randall and N. B. Van Slyke were corresponding with the Department for funds to reimburse the state for expenditures for the war.

Trouble at Ripon—The "Cavalry" Destroy a Printing Office.—We regret to hear that great complaint is made by the people of Ripon of insubordination in Col. Daniels' cavalry battalion, now stationed there; and that a few nights ago a number of the members of the battalion entered the printing office, threw the type out of the windows and broke things generally.

A citizen of Ripon informs us that the following morning Col. Daniels made a speech to his men, rather calculated to incite them to fresh outrages upon the people than to prevent another outbreak.

We hope this rumor as we hear it, not knowing what provocation there may have been for such conduct. We can hardly conceive that any condition of circumstances within this state, at the present time, that could justify a resort to these summary proceedings, or warrant an officer to lend them the slightest countenance.—Madison Journal.

The body of a middle sized man contains a compound of phosphorus, which if in a free state and inflamed, would burn him up and everything around him.—Exchange.

Can't be, says the Hartford Times. We know lots of old bachelors and antiquated maidens who havn't got phosphorous enough in them to make a match.

AGENCY FOR NATIONAL LOAN.

PURSUANT to instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, a book will be opened on the twentieth day of November, 1861, at my office, in Janesville, for subscriptions under my superintendence for Treasury Notes, to be issued under the act of July 17, 1861. These notes will be issued in sums of fifty dollars, one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, one thousand dollars, and five thousand dollars each, dated 19th August, 1861, payable three years after date to the order of the subscriber or as directed, and bearing interest at the rate of 7 3-10 per cent, per annum, payable semi-annually, such interest being at the rate of two cents each day, on every hundred dollars. For the convenience of the holder, each note will have coupons attached expressing the several amounts of semi-annual interest, which coupons may be detached and presented for payment separately from the notes.

Subscriptions for such Treasury Notes will be received during fifteen days from the day of opening the book as aforesaid and afterwards. No subscription for less than fifty dollars nor for any fraction of that sum can be received. Subscriptions of fifty dollars or one hundred dollars must be paid in lawful coin of the United States at the time of subscribing. Subscriptions of more than one hundred dollars may be paid at once; or, if preferred, one tenth at the time of subscribing and one-third of the whole amount on every twentieth day thereafter until the whole shall be paid. No payment of less than fifty dollars can be accepted, that being the smallest sum for which Treasury Notes can be issued.

Certificates will be granted in duplicate to subscribers for the amounts so paid, the original of which the subscriber will transmit by mail to the Secretary of the Treasury, when Treasury Notes, as aforesaid, will be issued thereon to such subscriber or his order, carrying interest as expressed in such certificate; but in cases where only a part of the amount subscribed is paid at the time of subscribing, Treasury Notes will be issued only for the payments made subsequently to the first, which will remain until the whole amount subscribed by such person shall be paid, when Treasury Notes will be issued for such first payment also. On payment of each deferred instalment, the subscriber will pay, in addition thereto, a sum equal to the interest accrued thereon from the 19th of August to the date of payment, and on final payment like interest on the amount paid on subscription, which payments of interest will be reimbursed to the subscriber in the payment of the first coupon.

The Treasury Notes issued upon such certificates by the Treasury will be sent to the subscribers my mail, or such other mode as may be indicated by them when they transmit their original certificates. The duplicate certificates may be retained by them for their own security. WM. M. TALLMAN, Agent

A New Arrangement.

On the 1st of next January a change will be made in the proprietorship of the Gazette Office by the withdrawal of Mr. Bowen. This change will render absolutely necessary a settlement of the subscriptions and other accounts due the present firm. We hope our friends will give this matter their immediate attention, and leave as few debts as possible for settlement after the change is made. It will be easier and better to all concerned to settle before that time, as a settlement must be made.

WOOD! WOOD!

Subscribers to the daily or weekly Gazette who wish to pay in WOOD, are requested to furnish it now. Any number of new subscriptions can be paid in this way.

To Our Debtors.

It will be seen by a notice in another column, that on the first of January next there will be a change in the proprietorship of the Gazette. The NECESSITY of a settlement of ALL our accounts will be apparent to all who will give the subject their attention, and as our own convenience will be materially promoted by a settlement before the dissolution of the partnership, and the interest of no debtor will be injured by doing in season what must come at last, we hope there will be no request or attempt at delay. Mr. Wilcox will devote his time to this matter, and as there are a large number of persons to settle with, let each one be prepared when called on. No one will be turned out of the office if he calls here for that purpose.

NOTICE, LADIES.—The ladies of Janesville and vicinity are requested to meet at Lappin's Hall to-morrow (Tuesday) at 10 o'clock A. M., to complete the arrangements for the Thanksgiving dinner at Camp Tredway on Thursday next.

By order of Committee

☞ There will be a thanksgiving dinner at Camp Tredway next Thursday at 1 o'clock P. M. We hope the people of the county will give such a response to the appeal of the ladies as will be worthy of "Old Rock" and the cause.

It is a happy idea and we expect to see such a display of turkeys, chickens, pies, doughnuts, and the etcetras, as was never exhibited in the state. Let there be a hecatomb of good things, it will send joy to a thousand hearts, and be the occasion of a renewal of friendship and good feeling among the citizens of the county generally. We endorse it with all our heart.

ARRIVAL.—A despatch dated St. Louis 22d, says—"The steamers A. Hines and Desmoines arrives to-day with the thirteenth Iowa regiment. The eleventh Wisconsin regiment came in early this morning. Both have gone to Benton barracks."

CAMP TREDWAY, Nov. 25.

We are ndebted to Mrs. S. Thomson and Miss Clarrie Mills, of Sharon, for thirteen "huzzahs," for the benefit of those of the company who are so unfortunate as to have no mother, sister or wife to supply them one. We assure you ladies we appreciate your useful present, and when absent from friends and home, we shall remember you with feelings of gratitude. We sincerely thank you and hope that company C will so do its duty in defending the stars and stripes, as to amply repay you for your kindness. JOHN C. FISH,

2d Lieut. Commanding Co. C.

The Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company have opened rooms in Jackman's Block, where their celebrated machines are kept for sale. Persons wishing to purchase sewing machines will find it to their interest to examine these machines, as they give you a choice of machines making either stitch. Grover & Baker are manufacturing the best lock-stitch machine in use in addition to their unrivalled Grover & Baker patent stitch machine, which have been awarded the first premium over all others at every state fair this year. Ladies call and see for yourself. dawlt *

MILITARY ITEMS.—F. R. Beogas and Hans Hansen are commissioned captain and 1st lieutenant of the Norway Bear Hunters, and they are ordered to leave Waterford for Camp Randall on the 25th of November.

Thomas Derry, J. D. Welch and James Campbell are commissioned captain and lieutenants of 3d Wisconsin Cavalry.

Gilbert L. Park and Jeremiah D. Rogers are commissioned lieutenants, and appointed adjutant and quartermaster of the 18th regiment.

SELLING OF BANKING SECURITIES.—Bank Comptroller VanSteenwyk has been in New York for some time past disposing of the securities of the discredited banks of this state. The New York papers notice the sale of a large lot last Tuesday.

We observe that North Carolina bonds sold at from 56 to 70 cents; Wisconsin 6s of 1858 at par; Tennessee's at 43⅞ a 44⅛; Missouri's 44⅞ a 48⅞.

The Bank Comptroller was expected home Saturday evening, and a full official statement of the sales will be given on the first of next month.

☞ Daniels' cavalry regiment passed through this city Saturday night.

Thanksgiving at Camp Tredway.

The ladies of Janesville having resolved to give the soldiers of the 13th regiment a thanksgiving dinner, beg the co-operation of their patriotic sisters and the citizens of Rock county generally.

This is one of those acts that brings a two-fold blessing. It is a joy to those that give and to those who receive. These brave men who have taken their lives in their hands to defend us, our interest and our honor, are not a mercenary soldiery, fighting merely for pay; they are our neighbors, our fathers, our husbands, our brothers and our sons, and have assumed the panoply of war from the sternest sense of duty. They are showing themselves worthy of their country and of being called men; let us show our appreciation of their noble sacrifices, and prove ourselves worthy of being their mothers and their sisters. Heaven has blessed us with plenty and these brave men will drive back the enemy and avert the horrors of war from this portion of our bleeding and distracted country. For this let us be truly thankful, and donate of our good things so abundantly that the brave men who are so soon to go forth to battle, God knows when, if ever, to return, may have cause to be thankful also. Let next Thursday be made a holiday for the whole county. Let us meet in grand and joyous assembly and offer bounteous sacrifice upon the altar of Friendship, of Patriotism and Brotherly Love.

COMMITTEE-LADIES AID SOCIETY.

Janesville, Nov. 25, 1861.

COMPANY C.—This company in the 13th regiment was recruited in the town of Sharon, Walworth county, under the name of "Sharon Blue Rifles," by its captain, Augustus H. Kummel. The commission was issued to Capt. K. on the 2d of September, and on the 15th of October he was in camp with 95 men. Nearly all these men are residents of the town of Sharon, and about 100 had been previously enlisted from that town, a considerable number of them going into Illinois companies, for which that state is now boasting as its own citizens. Well done, Sharon.

WISCONSIN REGIMENTS.—A correspondent of the Madison Journal writing from Washington on the 18th, gives some information as to several of the Wisconsin regiments in the region of the Potomac. All except a portion of the 7th have received their new uniforms. The week previous, three men belonging to the 7th died, and one from the 5th, one in the former from small pox and two from typhoid fever. The wife of Sergeant Williams, [of Company I, 7th regiment, (from Waushara county,) died in camp, of typhoid fever, on Sunday morning, the 10th inst. She was sick but eight days. Lieut. Col. Sweet, of the 6th, had been confined to his quarters for some days, with premonitions of typhoid fever, but was better, and it was hoped he would soon be out again. Col. Cutler was acting as Brigadier General for a few days, in the absence of Gen. King, who had been to New York. Dr. Chapman, Brigade Surgeon, had been sick for some time, but continued the discharge of his arduous duties until the 18th, when he yielded to necessity and the recommendation of his friends, and obtained leave of absence to recruit. He left for home the 19th. Col. Vandor has not yet resigned, but does not pretend to command his regiment or even visit them. Adjutant Cook was confined to his quarters in consequence of a fracture of his ancle and will be unable to mount his horse for several weeks to come. Lieut. Bailey, of company E, was acting in his place. Col. O'Connor is not able to be in command of his regiment yet, and Lieut. Col. Fairchild is, as he has been most of the time since his appointment, the acting Colonel. Gov. Randall and N. B. Van Slyke were negotiating with the Department for funds to reimburse the state for expenditures for the war.

TROUBLE AT RIPON—THE "CAVALRY" DESTROY A PRINTING OFFICE.—We regret to hear that great complaint is made by the people of Ripon of insubordination in Col. Daniels' cavalry battalion, now stationed there; and that a few nights ago a number of the members of the battalion entered the "Star" office, threw the type out of the windows, and broke things generally.

A citizen of Ripon informs us that the following morning Col. Daniels made a speech to his men, rather calculated to incite them to fresh outrages upon the people than to prevent another outbreak.

We give this rumor as we hear it, not knowing what provocation there may have been for such conduct. We can hardly conceive of any condition of circumstances within this state, at the present time, that could justify a resort to these summary proceedings, or warrant an officer to lend them the slightest countenance.—Madison Journal.

The body of a middle sized man contains a compound of phosphorus, which if in a free state and inflamed, would burn him up and everything around him.—Exchange.

Can't be, says the Hartford Times. We know lots of old bachelors and antiquated maidens who havn't got phosphorous enough in them to make a match.

AGENCY FOR NATIONAL LOAN.

PURSUANT to instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, a book will be opened on the twentieth day of November, 1861, at my office, in Janesville, for subscriptions under my superintendence for Treasury Notes, to be issued under the act of July 17, 1861. These notes will be issued in sums of fifty dollars, one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, one thousand dollars, and five thousand dollars each, dated 19th August, 1861, payable three years after date to the order of the subscriber or as directed, and bearing interest at the rate of 7 3-10 per cent, per annum, payable semi-annually; such interest being at the rate of two cents each day on every hundred dollars. For the convenience of the holder, each note will have coupons attached expressing the several amounts of semi-annual interest, which coupons may be detached and presented for payment separately from the notes.

Subscriptions for such Treasury Notes will be received during fifteen days from the day of opening the book as aforesaid and afterwards. No subscription for less than fifty dollars nor for any fraction of that sum can be received. Subscriptions of fifty dollars or one hundred dollars must be paid in lawful coin of the United States at the time of subscribing. Subscriptions of more than one hundred dollars may be paid at once; or, if preferred, one tenth at the time of subscribing and one-third of the whole amount on every twentieth day thereafter until the whole shall be paid. No payment of less than fifty dollars can be accepted, that being the smallest sum for which Treasury Notes can be issued.

Certificates will be granted in duplicate to subscribers for the amounts so paid, the original of which the subscriber will transmit by mail to the Secretary of the Treasury, when Treasury Notes, as aforesaid, will be issued thereon to such subscriber or his order, carrying interest as expressed in such certificate; but in cases where only a part of the amount subscribed is paid at the time of subscribing, Treasury Notes will be issued only for the payments made subsequently to the first, which will remain until the whole amount subscribed by such person shall be paid, when Treasury Notes will be issued for such first payment also. On payment of each deferred instalment, the subscriber will pay, in addition thereto, a sum equal to the interest accrued thereon from the 19th of August to the date of payment, and on final payment like interest on the amount paid on subscription, which payments of interest will be reimbursed to the subscriber in the payment of the first coupon.

The Treasury Notes issued upon such certificates by the Treasury will be sent to the subscribers my mail, or such other mode as may be indicated by them when they transmit their original certificates. The duplicate certificates may be retained by them for their own security. WM. M. TALLMAN, Agent

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

The solid service long and successfully tried, and the many advantages the Ætna Insurance Company possess in its line, should not be overlooked by those ready to insure and understanding their bests interests.

During "stringent times" the necessity for reliable Insurance becomes an imperative duty—the ability of property holders to sustain loss being then much less-ened.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
Cash Capital over - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

HISTORY OF THE WAR.

THE SOUTHERN REBELLION

and the

WAR FOR THE UNION:

A History of the

Rise and Progress of the Rebellion,

and

Consecutive Narrative of Events and Incidents, from the First Stages of the Treason Against the Republic down to the Close of the Conflict,

TOGETHER WITH IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS AND EXTRACTS FROM REMARKABLE SPEECHES.

In Weekly Parts, 32 pages, large 8vo, Price 10 Cents.

THE want of an authentic and thorough History of the Rebellion, for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to precipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the STORY AS IT IS, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important documents and extracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be a mere diary, nor a mere enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a compilation of slips from newspapers, but will portray in connected and interesting narrative, the revolutionary steps, as well as the movements of the government.

It will carefully digest all evidence—will sift all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so far as possible the errors and discrepancies cited at to the hasty narratives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style suited to its theme—at once graphic, earnest and luminous, introducing such personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

It is true, everybody reads the newspapers but the reports of the newspapers are the fragmentary and contradictory children of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsome volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the War of Independence, or the life of Washington, and worthy to be kept for children and grand children, as a memorial of the present time.

It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to every citizen, every family, every office, every library: and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patriot, every Union man, every good citizen in our still Glorious Land.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

The solid service long and successfully tried, and the many advantages the Ætna Insurance Company possess in its line, should not be overlooked by those ready to insure and understanding their bests interests.

During "stringent times" the necessity for reliable Insurance becomes an imperative duty—the ability of property holders to sustain loss being then much lessened.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals; and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

The only Correct and Complete

HISTORY OF THE WAR.

THE SOUTHERN REBELLION and the WAR FOR THE UNION:

A History of the

Rise and Progress of the Rebellion,

and

Consecutive Narrative of Events and Incidents, from the First Stages of the Treason Against the Republic down to the Close of the Conflict,

TOGETHER WITH IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS AND EXTRACTS FROM REMARKABLE SPEECHES.

In Weekly Parts, 32 pages, large 8vo, Price 10 Cents.

THE want of an authentic and thorough History of the Rebellion, for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to precipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the STORY AS IT IS, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important documents and extracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be a mere diary, nor a mere enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a compilation of slips from newspapers, but will portray in connected and interesting narrative, the revolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government.

It will carefully digest all evidence—will sift all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so far as possible the errors and discrepancies incident to the hasty narratives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style suited to its theme—at once graphic, earnest and luminous, introducing such personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

It is true, everybody reads the newspapers, but the reports of the newspapers are the fragmentary and contradictory children of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsome volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the War of Independence, or the Life of Washington, and worthy to be kept for children and grand-children, as a memorial of the present time.

It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to every citizen, every family, every office, every library; and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patriot, every Union man, every good citizen in our still Glorious Land.

DAILY GAZETTE.

Indorsement of Col. Cochrane's Views by a Kentucky Journal.

[From the Frankfort Commonwealth, November 18.]

The Louisville Democrat is horrified about a recent speech of John Cochrane of New York, in which he favored the confiscation of the slaves of rebels and the policy of employing them against the armies of Jeff Davis.

The policy indicated by Mr. Cochrane is exactly right, and in accordance with the usages of civilized warfare. We hope to see it adopted by the government. It should have been at first. Had it been, many lives of loyal citizens would have been saved that were lost through the wishy-washy and anomalous conduct of the government toward traitors in arms. Since the commencement of this most unnatural war, it has been safer to be a rebel than to be loyal to the government. The extreme punishment of treason has thus far been an "oath of allegiance," which a rebel will take with as much sang froid as he would a gin cocktail. If a loyal man falls into the hands of traitors, his life pays the forfeit. The rebels are daily confiscating the property of union men, and burning and otherwise destroying what they cannot make use of. Yet the Democrat would seem to desire the government to protect the property of these destroyers, and thus prolong the struggle, while its own adherents must pay the expenses of the war which has been forced upon them, and suffer unavenged, the depredations of an organized banditti.

Why should not the slaves of traitors in arms be confiscated to the use of the government? The Democrat will not deny that slaves are property as clearly so as are mules. Is it right and proper to confiscate a mule, and put it to hauling transportation? If it is, why is it not equally right and proper to confiscate a slave for a driver of that mule? Both are property, and both are employed by the rebels in their attempt to destroy this government.

A traitor has no right to claim the protection of the laws of that country he is endeavouring to destroy. If he succeeds in his designs, the country, together with its laws, must go down. If the country succeeds, the traitor must fall. Why, then, fight him with one hand, and sustain him with the other? The position of the Democrat is both untenable and unreasonable.

In the course of an article on the subject, the Democrat says:

"This proposed descent to the level of the rebels in prosecuting war is a disgrace to the government."

Whatever of disgrace attaches to such a policy would attach to the party inaugurating it. We believe in "fighting the devil with fire." The Democrat would probably employ rosewater and jerky editorials on account of the superior respectability of the latter. The rebels employ armed negroes, armed savages; they resort to all sorts of base means, even to piracy upon the high seas. They poison wells, and when they can—as at Guyandotte—they resort to assassination.

Here is an advertisement which appeared in a late number of the Norfolk (Va.) Day Book:

"Attention, Rattlesnakes!—Charge with fell poison, and be prepared to strike. We find many subjects in this town who must receive the force of our renown. Call early at the hall and hear the big snake. Little snakes, keep your eyes open, and bring in the list of those unfriendly to our holy cause. By order of

THE BIG RATTLE."

It is all stuff to talk about fighting such an enemy on "high points." The government has been trying the experiment some eight months, with indifferent success. If we meet a Big Rattle in our path we mash his head, if we can.

The Democrat further says,

"We are aware that the rebels are destroying the property of loyal states and loyal men. There are no base means they do not resort to; but the government has no right to follow the infamous example. It has full power to put down this rebellion without resorting to lawless and revolutionary means. If it has not the power, better give it up than adopt such means."

The Democrat is not as much in love with the Union as we had supposed. While an unscrupulous band of traitors are resorting to all manner of base means, the government must confine itself to what would be strictly lawful under the constitution, before the laws and the constitution were set at defiance by the rebels. It must not use "revolutionary" means to suppress revolution, &c., &c.

The logic of the Democrat is not sound. It amounts in effect to this:

"The rebels have very poor arms, mostly smooth bore and flint locks. The government has flint locks and smooth bores enough to put down this rebellion, and it ought not to employ Sharp's rifles and "coffee mill guns." If the government has not the power to put down this rebellion without resorting to such means, (i. e., taking advantages of the enemy) then it had better give it (the Union, we suppose) up."

With due reference to the superior wisdom of the editor of the Democrat, we must be permitted to remark that this talk about "unlawful and revolutionary means" in putting down the most unrighteous and causeless rebellion that ever existed, strikes us as nonsense of a very high order. The blood of thousands of men, who were called from their peaceful pursuits to resist this rebellion, is now crying from the ground for vengeance. The wails of widows and fatherless children are heard from one end of this broad land to the other. Homes desolated, families broken up, every business pursuit prostrated, and all for what? Because a gang of unscrupulous politicians had lost their hold of the public plunder; because, as they could no longer rule, they determined to ruin. Are they now entitled to any consideration? How can they claim the protection of the laws they willfully broke, or of the laws of nations which they have disregarded, or of the laws of nature which they constantly violate.

Let this barbarous rebellion be crushed out. We care not how, so it be done quickly.

Perfect as is the French system of political espionage, Louis Napoleon's Minister of Police is probably not kept better informed of what is transpiring within his domains, than Sec'y. Seward is of what those who secretly give "aid and comfort" to the rebels are about. The greater portion of the information is given by volunteers, and it requires careful investigation on the part of the clerks who attend to this responsible duty, to guard against revengful or malicious denouncers.

GREAT REDUCTION

—IN—

The Prices

—OF—

SINGER & CO.'S

STANDARD MACHINES,

Well known to be the best for

Manufacturing Purposes:

No. 1, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $90,

Reduced to $70.

No. 2, Standard Shuttle Machine, formerly sold at $100,

Reduced to $75.

Singer's Letter A Machine,

IS the best Machine in the world for Family Sewing and Light Manufacturing purposes; Price, (with Hemmer,) and beautifully ornamented,

FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Nos. 1 and 2 machines are of great capacity and application for manufacturing purposes.

Our No. 3 machines are especially adapted to all kinds of light and heavy

in Carriage Trimming, Boot and Shoe Making, Harness Making, etc., etc. They are of extra size, with an arm long enough to take under it and stitch the largest sized dashes. There is scarcely any part of a Trimmers' stitching that cannot be better done with them than by hand: so, too, the saving of time and labor is very great. The table under these machines is 24 inches long, and the shuttle will hold six times the usual quantity of thread. The large machines work as fast as small ones.

We would ask for our Letter A machines, the special attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want machines for Light Manufacturing purposes. They embody the principles of the standard machines, making like them, the interlock stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for Family Sewing and light manufacturing purposes as our standard machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

We have always on hand

Hemming Guages, Silk Twist, Linen and Cotton Thread on Spools, Best Machine Oil in Bottles, etc., etc.

We manufacture our own Needles, and would warn all persons using our machines not to buy any others. We know that there are needles sold of the most inferior quality, at higher prices than we charge for the best. The needles sold by us are manufactured especially for our machines. A bad needle may render the best machine almost useless.

Our customers may rest assured that all our Branch Offices are furnished with the

GENUINE ARTICLE.

In case of small purchases, the money may be sent in postage stamps or bank notes.

Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of which is a beautifully illustrated Pictorial Paper. It will be sent Gratis.

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefitting the public and ourselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always liable to get out of order, and are sure to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concern, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow rates of speed, but last long in the finest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will earn more money with less labor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

Official Paper of the City.

Forever float that standard sheet!
Where breathes the foe but falls before us?
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us!

Our Neighbors in Canada.

A friend in Canada forwards us some of their newspapers, for the purpose, we suppose, of informing us what is said about the rebellion. The Toronto Globe has an article condemning in strong terms the arrest of Mason and Slidell on board the British steamer Trent. It takes the position that the deck of a vessel is as sacred as the soil of the country where it belongs, and that if they permit search and seizure on their vessels, neutral territory could be searched as well. Doubtless this is true to some extent, especially on the boundary lines of different countries. Our Canadian neighbors must remember that they did not scruple to exercise this power during the rebel lion in their own provinces in 1837-8.—Their military officers sent an expedition to Schlosser, on the Niagara river, one night, and forcibly seized the American steamer Caroline, drove off the crew, killing one man, setting fire to the boat and let it drift over Niagara Falls. Instead of apologizing for this invasion of neutral territory, they justified it, and the government of Great Britain took upon itself the responsibility of the act. Inasmuch as the Caroline was probably engaged in aiding the "patriots," our government did not press the matter; but it was a far more outrageous proceeding on the part of the English authorities, than the stopping of the steamer Trent and taking two criminals from on board, who were leaving the country for the avowed purpose of securing aid for their treason. We do not regard a vessel at sea, on the common highway of nations, exactly in the same light as the territory of a nation. There must be a greater latitude for examination into the character of a vessel than would be allowed to persons on land, in the midst of a neutral country, where the regular proceedings of law can at all times be enforced.

The other Canadian papers received are even more unfriendly than the Globe. The Peterboro Review, a ministerial paper, has a most virulent article, condemning the the north and the efforts of the national government to suppress the rebellion, but not a word against the bloody scoundrels who commenced this causeless rebellion.—This paper even declares that the success of the north would be the worst thing that could happen to America, while the independence of the south "will be the most for the advantage of mankind, even should the slavery of the negro race be continued." This latter declaration shows what sincerity there has been in the abolition sentiments of the English government. As long as they could annoy and trouble us about slavery, they were loud in their denunciation of it, but now that slavery seeks to divide, and weaken us by disunion, these same English philanthropists are found aiding and abetting the rebel slave holders—those whom they denounced as pirates and fillibusters, are screened and protected in every possible way. "Perfidious Albion" was written long ago, but it is as true to-day as ever.

The Millbrook, C. W., Chronicle also gives a truthful paragraph about "fifty thousand" sailors and fifteen thousand soldiers in "fifty large men-of-war" taking Port Royal, and "succeeding in defeating 4,000 confederates, which was not much to boast of." It is not necessary to reply to such sneers; they deceive only those who desire to believe its implied falsehoods. It is only important as showing the feeling towards us, manifested by some of the Canadian press. We do not believe the people of Canada, a majority of them, are unfriendly to us, but the pimps of the English government are those who talk in this way; that government which keeps Canadian commerce and manufactures down that England may do all that business herself; which compels Canada to produce the raw material while English ships and English manufacturers do the rest of the work. If Canadians are content to drag along, without enterprise and without progress, the menials of a British aristocracy, let them do it. We have not a word to say to persuade them to take a different course. But when these seedy provincials sneer at us in our troubles, and sympathise with a slave holder's rebellion, merely because they expect smiles from their oppressive government beyond the sea, in which they have no voice, we look upon them with pity.—We have our misfortunes and trouble here, growing out of the legacy of slavery, left us by England, but we shall get rid of it, and be stronger for the struggle. In the meantime, we ask no sympathy from any but the genuine friends of a republican government; let others sneer, and cavil, and denounce us, as they please. They day will come when Canada will be a part of us—a portion of the grand and free Republic of North America. We bide our time.

Health of Gen. Houston.—The Galveston Civilian says that, "at last accounts, Gen. Houston was slowly recovering, and was deemed out of danger."

John Brown's sharp-shooters have arrived at Leavenworth, Kansas, and have joined Col. Jennison's regiment.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

Second Cavalry.—Levi Sterling, of Mineral Point, has been appointed third major in Col. Washburne's regiment.

Pier Gone at Port Washington.—The late storm took with it about two-thirds of the south pier at Port Washington. It was owned by Messrs. Silverman & Curtis.

Donations for the Family of Jackson.—The Richmond Examiner of the 14th, states that the donations for the family of Jackson, the murderer of Ellsworth, now reach $30,000.

A Useful Bird.—"On the Edinburgh & Glasgow railroad, a trained parrot is kept at every station to call out the name of the place at the arrival of trains. They pronounce it so as to be heard and understood, which is more than the conductors have heretofore done." A very smart satire upon official negligence. Few who have travelled but have also been puzzled at the cabalistic words in which conductors sometimes announce a station.—Balt. Sun.

In Madison county, Illinois, a few days ago, a crazy German named Frihert, who had lost his reason on the death of wife, shot dead his four children and then blew his own brains out.

The Seneca Falls Knitting Mills, now engaged on government contracts, employs between three and four thousand men and women, and yet this force is inadequate to meet the demand.

Samuel Dickinson of Sanilac, Michigan, enlisted in Capt. Huckins' company. It takes two to make a bargain, and Samuel's wife wasn't agreeable at such an act of patriotism. Samuel was asleep that night she hacked off two of his fingers with a chisel and block. This was a loud call to Samuel to stay at home and Capt. Huckins saw the point of it.

Official Votes.—Clark county gives Harvey 175, Ferguson 26—maj. 149.—Douglas, Harvey 51, Ferguson 41—maj. 10. Dunn, Harvey 490, Ferguson 7—maj. 483. This leaves Ashland, Burnett, Dallas, Eau Claire, Kewaunee, La Fayette and La Pointe to be heard from officially. No reports whatever have been received from Burnett and Dallas. Ashland is reported at 25 majority for Harvey, Eau Claire at 210, Kewaunee at 200, La Pointe at 40, La Fayette is reported at 386 for Ferguson. In round numbers, the majorities will be about as follows:

Harvey	8,500
Salomon	5,800
Lewis	11,000
Hastings	12,800
Howe	12,000
Pickard	9,500
Ramsay	7,500
Hodges	7,700

J. G. McKindley gets a little over 1,000 votes for state superintendent, and Wm. C. Allen nearly 5,000 for lieutenant governor on the union ticket.

☞ If a score of the best daguerrean artists in the country had experimented for a life-like portrait, no one of them could have succeeded better than the Albany Journal. It says:

"Of Mason, it is sufficient to say, that he is the type of the worst breed of southern aristocrats:—a braggart without courage—a snob without breeding—a bully without the graces of his class. Dull of eye and dull of wit—pompous, conceited, shallow—he adds to the depravity of the traitor the ignoble attributes of the spy. A secessionists from the beginning, he did not scruple to hold the seat and draw the pay of a senator, in order the better to batray the government he had sworn to support."

Portrait of Lord Palmerston.—Fancy a man of seventy-six, who has been in most incessant political life for more than fifty years, sitting out a debate of ten hours without flinching, and then walking to his house in Piccadilly, not less than two miles. And his body is not more active than his mind. Not a word escapes him when a prominent man is on his legs. Do not be deceived by his lazy attitude or his sleepy expression. Not a man in the house has his wits more thoroughly about him. Ever ready to extricate his colleagues from an awkward difficulty, to evade a dangerous question—making, with an air of transparent candor, a reply in which nothing is answered—to disarm an angry opponent with a few conciliatory or complimentary words, or to demolish him with a little good humored raillery which sets the house in a roar; equally skillful in attack and retreat; such, in a word, is the bearing of this gay and gallant veteran, from the beginning to the end of each debate, during the entire session of parliament.

He seems absolutely insensible to fatigue. "I happened," said a member of the house, writing to a friend, last summer, "to follow Lord Palmerston, as he left the cloak-room, the other morning, after a late sitting, and, as I was going his way, I thought I might as well see how he got over the ground. At first he seemed a little stiff in the legs; but when he warmed to his work he began to pull out, and before he got a third of the way he bowled along splendidly, so that he put me to it to keep him in view. Perhaps in a few hours after that long sitting and that walk home, and the brief sleep that followed, the premier might have been seen standing bolt upright at one end of a great table in Cambridge House, receiving a deputation from the country, listening with patient and courteous attention to some tedious spokesman, or astonishing his hearers by his knowledge of their affairs and his intimacy with their trade or business."

Butler's Troops En Route.—The programme for the departure of the first 3,000 men of Gen. Butler's New England division, was agreeably filled on Wednesday. The mammoth steamer Constitution, the largest vessel ever seen in Boston harbor, took on board the 26th Massachusetts and 9th Connecticut, and moving thence to Portland, received the 12th Maine, making the complement for her first voyage to Port Royal. The other 3,000 will be ready for the return trip of the steamer.

The Tables Turned.—J. M. Mason and Jeff. Davis were a majority of the committee, and made the majority report in the Harper's Ferry investigation case.

Senator Mason reported that John Brown's raid "was intended to subvert the government of the United States," that it was "attended by armed resistance to the authorities and public force of the United States."

Now, Mr. Mason, what have you been doing? John Brown, a good deal better man than you ever dared be, was hung. What shall be done with Jim. Mason?—Leavenworth Conservator.

The B's.—Beaufort is a set-off to Bull Run, Big Bethel, and Ball's Bluff. The naval expedition has redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled the B's, and the second letter of the alphabet is again worthy of our esteem.

To-Day's Report.

[Reported Exclusively for the Daily Gazette.]

MORNING DESPATCHES.

Washington, Nov. 24.

Tribune's special.—The reports of the Secretaries approach completion; the great interest which the war will give to that of the Secretary of war will be heightened by Mr. Cameron's distinct avowal of his policy of placing arms in the hands of slaves willing to use them for the cause of the Union. He will support this by argument and historical references, and so show that his leading position upon this vital question has been as deliberately as strongly taken, as a foretaste of the admisistration hereafter of the war department until the close of this rebellion. The public will learn with interest that Mr. Cameron will appeal to congress and to the governors of the states for authority to bind the government to practice the closest economy, and will strictly require economy and accountability from every subordinate in the war bureau, and the army in the field; enormous as the war is and will be, they will not be permitted to plunder either the government or the people. Mr. Cameron's report will also probably contain reccommendations that will go far to abolish the distinction between regulars and volunteers. Among these will be the repeal of the regulation which confers rank on the regular officer over the volunteer of the same grade, leaving it to be determined by seniority according to date of commission.

Secretary Chase's report will recommend, necessarily, a large increase of revenue duties. The necessities of the treasury during the war, will require that the tariff be so shaped as to produce the greatest possible amount of income. Large incidental protection to American manufacturers will, of course, be the consequence. Upon the vital idea of the war, it is said that Mr. Chase will fully develop the theory that the slaves in the rebel states should be employed under wages to raise cotton, sugar, rice and tobacco, for government account. This policy has already been established by Mr. Cameron in regard to the ungathered sea island cotton in Beaufort. The nation will heartily approve its recommendation by Mr. Chase to congress, as a wiser disposition of the slaves than to leave them in the rear of our armies, roaming at large, pillaging and marauding.

Samuel A. Purviance, of Pennsylvania, recently appointed consul general to Cuba, has declined.

A scouting party of 150 cavalry sent out by Gen. McCall to-day, went as far as Drainsville, about half way from his camp to Leesburgh, and returned without seeing any signs of the enemy.

Times' dispatch.—Capt. Thomas, of the quarter master's department, has now 260,000 army coats and pants stored in Corcoran's building. Yesterday an entire brigade of 4,000 men, were furnished with pants in two hours.

Herald's dispatch.—The expedition which left some days ago, down the Potomac, returned this morning with six political prisoners, arrested in St. Marys, Maryland. It appears that these parties are a portion of a secret organization for the purpose of conveying men and arms to the rebel government. A large quantity of arms was discovered and seized. A rebel spy was also arrested who had just returned from the other side, who had left Richmond the day before. Many valuable letters and papers were found on his person.

The expedition also seized a large quantity of contraband correspondence, which was found in the several post-offices in lower Maryland. They discovered the channel through which the rebels have been receiving northern papers and other important information.

Detroit, Nov. 23.

The steamer Key Stone State bound hence for Milwaukee, 8th inst., is believed to have gone down with all on board. She was last seen in a gale, apparently disabled, and pieces of wreck supposed to belong to her have since been picked up on Lake Huron.

Rolla, Nov. 22.

McCulloch with a large force is now encamped between Springfield and Lebanon. His pickets extended last night over a space of 15 miles this side of Lebanon.—This is reliable. It was rumored in camp last night that the advance of the rebel army, 8,000 strong, was at the Gasconade, about 13 miles west of here. This however is not credited.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

Baltimore, Nov. 25.

The Richmond Enquirer says that the confederate congress has passed a bill for the removal of the capital from Richmond to Nashville, and that congress will soon assemble there.

Boston, Nov. 25.

The reception of Com. Wilkes will take place this P. M. at Faneuil Hall. The officers of the San Jacinto will be received at Long Wharf by a body of citizens with music, and escorted to the hall, where congratulations and hand shaking, by the public generally, will constitute the proceedings.

Washington, Nov. 25.

Joshua R. Giddings, consul general for the British-American Provinces, has accomplished the object of his visit to Washington, namely: The removal of the delays and inconveniences appending to passports to British subjects, on taking passage for Europe, at Portland, Maine.

The government of Italy has adopted the stringent rule of France in regard to vessels depredating on American commerce.

The American consuls are keeping a sharp lookout for the suspicious vessels lately seen at Malta.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.

The information from Neosho is that the rebel congress of this state, after obtaining a quorum by the appointment of proxies, elected John B. Clark, formerly a member of congress from Howard county, P. Ely Pritten of Cass county, senators to the rebel congress. The legislature also appointed members to rebel house of representatives from the different congressional districts of the state, among whom are Emmet McDonald of St. Louis, of habeas corpus notoriety; L. M. McIlhany of Andrews county, and Jos. S. Rains of Jasper county; all of whom are in Price's army.

New York, Nov. 25.

The Richmond papers state that to give the batteries of the forts at Charleston ample time to play upon an attacking fleet, a long chain of massive rafts has lately been stretched across the mouth of the harbor, from Ft. Sumter to Sullivan's Island. This boom is of sufficient strength to fully neutralize the advantage which the Yankees might derive from the speed of their war vessels.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.

The work on the mortar fleet at this point has not been stopped as stated in the Cincinnati Enquirer, but is progressing rapidly, and a boat is expected to be finished this week—the mortars being already cast and awaiting shipment at Pittsburg.

New York, Nov. 25.

The Steamship North Star brings some United States troops and Col. Buchanan, and the following officers: Surgeon McCormick, Major Ketchum, Capts. Wallin, Russel, Davidson and Davis, Assistant Surgeons Litterman and Patten, Lieuts. Scott, Turner, Carlton and Gray. No news of the Sumter, but she is probably near the coast of Venezuela.

A Daring Exploit.—Among the many instances where the bravery of our officers and men have shown conspicuous, the one we are about to relate is almost unequaled:

Capt. Spencer, aid to Gen. Wool, received information from two ladies who went from Norfolk to Fortress Monroe with a flag of truce, that near midnight a six-oared boat was to leave Norfolk for Richmond with money for the payment of the rebel soldiers. He requested permission of Major General Wool to attempt their capture, and was told not to place too much confidence in the information received. Nevertheless, permission was given, and selecting two good oarsmen on whom he could rely, with their oars muffled, he started at dark, and awaited the coming of the enemy's boat. He had previously given direction to his men to pull directly for the boat, and on the moment of striking to "back water instantly. About midnight the boat was heard approaching, and taking his station in the bows, with a 9-inch shell in his hands, he gave the order to "give way." The moment his bows struck the rebel boat he threw the shell into the middle of it, and was himself drawn back, luckily receiving no injury from the explosion. Not so the boat and occupants, however, the former of which was broken in two, and the latter were scattered in all directions in the water, not, however, before discharging their pistols at him, two balls going through his cap and three perforating his coat. The men were then told that if they submitted quietly they would be saved, otherwise he would leave them to their fate. They preferred the former, and arming himself with a pistol in one hand and a dirk (taken by him at the battle of Bull Run from a "secesh") in the other, he took them in his boat one by one, handcuffing them as they were pulled in. In addition to which, from the stern of the enemy's boat, which floated, he took $1,100 in gold, and $5,000 in their worthless paper money. It was with some difficulty that he reached the fort, the gunwale of the boat being almost level with the water, with its increased freight.

Law Affecting Railway Passengers.—A decision has recently been given in the court of appeals in New York, which may prove of interest to those using, or employed on passenger railways. The decision was as follows:

"To eject a passenger from a railroad car while in motion, is so dangerous an act that it may justify the same resistance on the part of the passenger as a direct attempt to take his life.

While the passenger is liable to ejection in a proper manner for refusing to pay fare, his resistance to the attempt to expel him without stopping the car, does not present a case of concurrent negligence on his part.

Where, in such a case, the principal is responsible for the act of his agent, he is, it seems, also responsible for any circumstance of aggravation which attends the wrong.

On this decision a passenger who was ejected from a car while in motion, obtained a verdict of $4,000 against the company."

"Mr. Prentice, the widely known and most loyal senior editor of the Louisville Journal, has a son who is an officer in the rebel army."

The Journal copies the above paragraph and with the true American spirit of sacrifice and patriotism, remarks:

"The sad picture is hardly overdrawn or overcolored. We have labored under every disadvantage which could unnerve patriotism; we have been compelled to wrestle with the holiest instincts of nature, and we have seen our loved and cherished ones seduced by wily traitors from paths of loyalty, and taught to believe that vows of allegiance are of as little regard as lovers' perjuries. Under these discouragements, with the rebel line of attack bulwarked by the breasts of our fathers, brothers, children and friends, and with the certain knowledge that the more glorious our victory, the more desolate will be our once happy homes, Kentucky has shown a Spartan devotedness and the firmness of a Brutus, for every beat of the martial drum re-echoes to her heart like the funeral muffled march, and every order to the charge lacerates as keenly as did the wave of the noble Roman's hand which signalled the fall of the axe upon the neck of his traitor son. Manhood has been severely, terribly tested, and from the fiery furnace of affliction, thank God, Kentucky has come out with her garments of patriotism unsullied."

Horses in a Gale at Sea.—The Great Republic, which sailed with the naval expedition for Port Royal, had 530 horses on board, The conduct of the beasts during the terrible storm of Friday week is thus described by a correspondent of the Tribune:

At 12 M. the wind blew a gale, and continued to increase in violence for 24 hours, some of the waves sweeping clear over our decks and striking the ship with the force of a solid shot. At 8 P. M., for some reason, the Vanderbilt let go our hawsers.—It made fearful commotion among our horses for a few minutes. The effect was like a powerful concussion, throwing the horses out of their equilibrium, and some twenty of them were thrown off their feet. We then began to pitch and roll at a terrible rate, until we got some sails set, which steadied the vessel very much. We held our course S. by W. until 1 o'clock at night when the sailors having hauled the hawser line, making the ship a little more manageable, we "tacked ship" and stood more to the east. Then the ship rolled fearfully, the decks at every roll standing at an angle of 45 degrees. The horses plunged madly, as if they would tear everything loose. Many of them gave utterance to most mortal groans, while others, in their desperation, burried their teeth in the wood of their stalls and mangers. I was below through the whole of it, keeping my men to their duty as well as I could, which was not very well, for they ran for safety every chance they could get. One horse as I stood by him, turned a complete summerset, his head striking where his heels stood. When he came down, the horse next to him kicked him in the head, nearly killing him. I could do nothing but let him struggle till morning, when I had him killed and thrown overboard. Another horse dropped dead without a struggle, and two others were so injured that I had them killed and thrown overboard, making the loss in all that night four horses.

The Richmond Enquirer states that the war has already cost Virginia some $10,000,000; and, judging from the tone of an article in the same journal, it considers the price a heavy one for making itself "the chopping block of the north and south, and cock-pit of contending nations, the Flanders of America."

The Negroes at Port Royal

The N. Y. Times correspondent says:

This account of the feelings of the blacks, and of the attempts of the South Carolinians to compel them to accompany their masters has been confirmed in various quarters, and tallies exactly with what I was told yesterday by some negroes whom I saw at Seabroook, a hamlet about six miles from Hilton Head. At that place some two hundred negroes had gathered during the day, and continued to come in until long after I had left at nightfall. They were men, woman and children, of all ages. All reported the same story, and told it without any apparent concert. They came from across Scull Creek, which divides Hilton Island from the main land; many were from the Pinckney estate, but they came from several plantations, and agreed that their masters had endeavored to take them along in the flight that seems to be general in the whole neighborhood. The negroes, however, assured me that they refused to fly, and in several instances the white men shot at them. I heard of two blacks that were wounded. The rest were indignant; they declared that all would come in to the national forces who could get away; and that none would accompany their masters unless absolutely forced. They manifested the greatest elation at their escape, and like those whom I first questioned, the day after the fight, declared that the whole black population had long expected the coming of the yankees, and were everywhere anxious to hurry to our lines. There was a jubilee last night in the negro quarters at Seabrook, dancing and singing around fires that they built, and inside of the captured Fort Walker, a religious meeting was held and thanks offered to God for their deliverance. A hundred or more are already at work landing the cargoes of the vessels, or assisting in whatever labors are assigned them. There can be no doubt that the negro question is destined immediately to assume in this quarter proportions and aspects utterly unlike any that it has presented elsewhere. The blacks throughout the state will desert their masters wherever our army appears, and if those masters are so insane as to attempt coercion, results appalling to contemplate must ensue. No shadow of inducement has thus far been held out to the slaves by the national forces. They have come to us without any invitation; they express a willingness to work; they have already given valuable information, acted as guides, and in the labors to which they are put, will prove of prodigious assistance. But the utter and speedy annihilation of slavery in South Carolina seems as certain as that these infatuated secessionists continue to hold out against our arms.

Last night I listened to the negroes in a prayer meeting. After a wild melody of some musical composition, slow and solemn, with a deep, long drawn nasal intonation, they "blessed de Lord dey had privileges" now they never thought to enjoy, and hoped the time would soon come when the armies of the north would come south, and turn and overturn till every bondman should be free. The deep religious sentiment of the negroes is marked, and sticks out in their meetings, but, like the Hindoos, they pray and then steal. They are a good deal alarmed about how all this is coming out, but contented to await the dictation of the Lord, who they address as "Sir," and acknowledge His hand in everything, even in stealing.

Murder.—Last night about twelve o'clock (we write on Sunday) a brutal murder was committed on Water street, near R. D. Squires' saloon. The murdered man was named Sylvester Giddings, a married man of about thirty-five years, who lived up the river eight miles, and the murderer is Henry E. Lincoln.

The cause of the affray is difficult to ascertain. The parties had been drinking.—Several persons were present. Scuffling had been going on. Suddenly Lincoln sprang upon the deceased, and dealt him several blows about the head, felling him to the ground, and then kicked him twice or three times. The deceased made no resistance, and scarcely stirred after the first blow.

There is mystery about the affair. The deceased had between two or three hundred dollars in gold that evening, and after the murder but one 2½ piece was found on him.

The sheriff offers $100 reward for the apprehension of the murderer. The following is his description: Sandy complexion, light hair, quite thin on his head, blue eyes, about six feet high, wears whiskers. Had on pants patched above the knee. His movements are quick and restless.—Jackson County Banner.

"No More Slave Catching."—We sincerely trust the determination, said to have been arrived at by Secretary Cameron, that henceforth our soldiers will not be required to turn slave-catchers, will be rigidly adhered to. This degrading office has been already quite too long held by our army. It does not sound well, either at home or abroad, that the armed defenders of this free government—a government which the minions of slavery are attempting to destroy—are acting as special police for the protection of the "peculiar institution."—The eloquent denunciation of this most abject of "dirty work" by George Bancroft, and more recently by John Cochrane, will find hearty endorsement in every manly breast. The country is shamed and mortified at the shabby business, and demands that it shall be stopped.

Gen. Lane, of Kansas, struck the key note of the popular heart, when he declared to his rough followers:—"We march to crush out treason—and let slavery take care of itself." Having provoked and assumed the risks of revolution, slavery must abide the consequences of the rude shock. We cannot stand between it and destruction. We cannot even to please loyal men, afford to stand guard over their human property.

We have other business on hand.—Albany Evening Journal.

My little boy riding home with me one evening, brimful of enthusiasm and fun, having evidently "made a good day of it," broke out in this wise: "Oh! pa! pa! there is such a nice little girl comes to school! little Kate D——. Oh! pa! she's such a nice little girl! I like Katy D——," (and looking me full in the face with a voice slightly lowered, and an earnest motion of the head) "I'd marry her, pa, if I knew how!"

A Masonic Coincidence.—Last spring Hon. Mr. Winthrop, then at Washington, invited Senator Mason to visit Boston.—"Not until I come as an ambassador," was the reply which made the mild-mannered member of the Boohoo committee quake down to his very boot-heels. Well, about this time he is there "as an ambassador," for the San Jacinto must have arrived, and discharged her cargo at Fort Warren. He doubtless remembers his own words, which must strike him as of a prophetic cast. He is an accepted Mason at Fort Warren, even if Col. Dimmick's rules do not allow him to be a free one.

The editor of the Union Democrat, who has had some experience in the pulpit, says:

Some years ago, when folks used to ask us about these things more than now-a-days, a good old lady enquired of us what kind of water longer water was? We replied that we'd never heard of that kind of drink. "Why yes," she said, "Paul cautioned Timothy to drink no longer water, but to take a little wine for his stomach's sake."

Where is Cumberland Gap?—Cumberland Gap is situated about ten miles from Cumberland Ford, in Tennessee, and has been celebrated for a century as a great depression in the mountain ridge which traverses the continent from New Hampshire to North Alabama. Through this gap, very similar in appearance and characteristic to the South Pass in the Rocky Mountains, formerly the emigrants from Virginia and North Carolina passed on their way to the virgin wilds of the west. For half a century thousands upon thousands poured thro' this natural gateway into the Mississippi valley from the Atlantic slopes. Boone, Kenton, and their pioneer confreres, first entered the land of "cane and turkey" over the pre-Adamite turnpike. It really forms to this hour the best, and, in fact, the only practicable road for the transportation of troops and heavy munitions of war from East Tennessee into Kentucky.

Mr. Seward's Position.—A prominent citizen of New York had an interview with Mr. Seward a day or two since, when the question of compromise came up, when Mr. Seward remarked: "With many persons I have the reputation of a compromiser.—Nothing could be more unjust to me. I was the last man in the cabinet to consent to the removal of Gen. Fremont, and I would be the last man to consent to a compromise with the rebels." "Why, then," asked the New Yorker, "do you not take pains to let your opinions be known?" "Because I am willing to trust my reputation with the future," was the reply. "I would like to make this conversation public, for the sake of some of my friends as well as yours," said the citizen, and the secretary replied that he had "no concealments." This conversation accords with other statements respecting Gen. Fremont's removal. Mr. Seward was one of the fast friends of Fremont in the cabinet.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Evening Post.

The extra session of the Legislature of South Carolina, after sitting three days, adjourned sine die on the 6th inst., after choosing presidential electors and ordering the banks to loan the state $300,000. The names of the presidential electors are Henry C. Young, Wm. H. Prescott, Robert F. W. Allston, John S. Palmer, J. Duncan Allen, John C. Hope, T. Edwin Ware and Franklin I. Moses.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Jayne's Ague Mixture

Is an infallible remedy for Fever and Ague. The experience of many years in almost every climate proves that where used strictly in accordance with the directions, it has rarely failed to cure,—not only by breaking up the chills, but by removing the morbid habits of the system, preventing a recurrence of the disease.

Fever and Ague, though not in itself dangerous, is apt, unless speedily removed, to have such a pernicious effect on the system, as to engender disorders much more baneful than itself, and which not only render the afterlife of the patient miserable, but are in themselves often fatal. A prompt and effectual remedy is therefore what is wanted, and as such DR. D. JAYNE'S AGUE MIXTURE is confidently recommended. For sale by G. B. CURTIS,

A New Arrangement.

On the 1st of next January a change will be made in the proprietorship of the Gazette Office by the withdrawal of Mr. Bowen. This change will render absolutely necessary a settlement of the subscriptions and other accounts due the present firm. We hope our friends will give this matter their immediate attention, and leave as few debts as possible for settlement after the change is made. It will be easier and better to all concerned to settle before that time, as a settlement must be made.

WOOD! WOOD!

Subscribers to the daily or weekly Gazette who wish to pay in Wood, are requested to furnish it now. Any number of new subscriptions can be paid in this way.

To Our Debtors.

It will be seen by a notice in another column, that on the first of January next there will be a change in the proprietorship of the Gazette. The NECESSITY of a settlement of ALL our accounts will be apparent to all who will give the subject their attention, and as our own convenience will be materially promoted by a settlement before the dissolution of the partnership, and the interest of no debtor will be injured by doing in season what must come at last, we hope there will be no request or attempt at delay. Mr. Wilcox will devote his time to this matter, and as there are a large number of persons to settle with, let each one be prepared when called on. No one will be turned out of the office if he calls here for that purpose.

NOTICE, LADIES.—The ladies of Janesville and vicinity are requested to meet at Lappin's Hall to-morrow (Tuesday) at 10 o'clock A. M., to complete the arrangements for the Thanksgiving dinner at Camp Tredway on Thursday next.

By order of Committee

☞ There will be a thanksgiving dinner at Camp Tredway next Thursday at 1 o'clock P. M. We hope the people of the county will give such a response to the appeal of the ladies as will be worthy of "Old Rock" and the cause.

It is a happy idea and we expect to see such a display of turkeys, chickens, pies, doughnuts, and the etceteras, as was never exhibited in the state. Let there be a hecatomb of good things, it will send joy to a thousand hearts, and be the occasion of a renewal of friendship and good feeling among the citizens of the county generally. We endorse it with all our heart.

ARRIVAL.—A despatch dated St. Louis 22d, says—"The steamers A. Hines and Desmoines arrives to-day with the thirteenth Iowa regiment. The eleventh Wisconsin regiment came in early this morning. Both have gone to Benton barracks."

CAMP TREDWAY, Nov. 25.

We are indebted to Mrs. S. Thomson and Miss Clarrie Mills, of Sharon, for thirteen "huzzahs," for the benefit of those of the company who are so unfortunate as to have no mother, sister or wife to supply them one. We assure you ladies we appreciate your useful present, and when absent from friends and home, we shall remember you with feelings of gratitude. We sincerely thank you and hope that company C will so do its duty in defending the stars and stripes, as to amply repay you for your kindness. JOHN C. FISH,

2d Lieut. Commanding Co. C.

The Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Company have opened rooms in Jackman's Block, where their celebrated machines are kept for sale. Persons wishing to purchase sewing machines will find it to their interest to examine these machines, as they give you a choice of machines making either stitch. Grover & Baker are manufacturing the best lock-stitch machine in use in addition to their unrivalled Grover & Baker patent stitch machine, which have been awarded the first premium over all others at every state fair this year. MILITARY ITEMS.—F. R. Boogas and Hans Hansen are commissioned captain and 1st lieutenant of the Norway Bear Hunters, and they are ordered to leave Waterford for Camp Randall on the 25th of November.

Thomas Derry, J. D. Welch and James Campbell are commissioned captain and lieutenants of 3d Wisconsin Cavalry.

Gilbert L. Park and Jeremiah D. Rogers are commissioned lieutenants, and appointed adjutant and quartermaster of the 18th regiment.

SELLING OF BANKING SECURITIES.—Bank Comptroller VanSteenwyk has been in New York for some time past disposing of the securities of the discredited banks of this state. The New York papers notice the sale of a large lot last Tuesday.

We observe that North Carolina bonds sold at from 56 to 70 cents; Wisconsin 6s of 1858 at par; Tennessee's at 43⅞ a 44⅛; Missouri's 44⅞ a 46⅞.

The Bank Comptroller was expected home Saturday evening, and a full official statement of the sales will be given on the first of next month.

☞ Daniels' cavalry regiment passed through this city Saturday night.

Thanksgiving at Camp Tredway.

The ladies of Janesville having resolved to give the soldiers of the 13th regiment a thanksgiving dinner, beg the co-operation of their patriotic sisters and the citizens of Rock county generally.

This is one of those acts that brings a two-fold blessing. It is a joy to those that give and to those who receive. These brave men who have taken their lives in their hands to defend us, our interest and our honor, are not a mercenary soldiery, fighting merely for pay; they are our neighbors, our fathers, our husbands, our brothers and our sons, and have assumed the panoply of war from the sternest sense of duty. They are showing themselves worthy of their country and of being called men; let us show our appreciation of their noble sacrifices and prove ourselves worthy of being their mothers and their sisters. Heaven has blessed us with plenty and these brave men will drive back the enemy and avert the horrors of war from this portion of our bleeding and distracted country. For this let us be truly thankful, and donate of our good things so abundantly that the brave men who are so soon to go forth to battle, God knows when, if ever, to return, may have cause to be thankful also. Let next Thursday be made a holiday for the whole county. Let us meet in grand and joyous assembly, and offer bounteous sacrifice upon the altar of Friendship, of Patriotism and Brotherly Love.

COMMITTEE LADIES AID SOCIETY.

Janesville, Nov. 25, 1861.

COMPANY C.—This company in the 13th regiment was recruited in the town of Sharon, Walworth county, under the name of "Sharon Line Rifles," by its captain, Augustus H. Kummel. The commission was issued to Capt. K. on the 2d of September, and on the 15th of October he was in camp with 95 men. Nearly all these men are residents of the town of Sharon, and about 100 had been previously enlisted from that town, a considerable number of them going into Illinois companies, for which that state is now boasting as its own citizens. Well done, Sharon.

WISCONSIN REGIMENTS.—A correspondent of the Madison Journal writing from Washington on the 18th, gives some information as to several of the Wisconsin regiments in the region of the Potomac. All except a portion of the 7th have received their new uniforms. The week previous, three men belonging to the 7th died, and one from the 5th, one in the former from small pox and two from typhoid fever. The wife of Sergeant Williams, [of Company I, 7th regiment, (from Waushara county,) died in camp, of typhoid fever, on Sunday morning, the 10th inst. She was sick but eight days. Lieut. Col. Sweet, of the 6th, had been confined to his quarters for some days, with premonitions of typhoid fever, but was better, and it was hoped he would soon be out again. Col. Cutler was acting as Brigadier General for a few days, in the absence of Gen. King, who had been to New York. Dr. Chapman, Brigade Surgeon, had been sick for some time, but continued the discharge of his arduous duties until the 18th, when he yielded to necessity and the recommendation of his friends, and obtained leave of absence to recruit. He left for home the 19th. Col. Vandor has not yet resigned, but does not pretend to command his regiment or even visit them. Adjutant Cook was confined to his quarters in consequence of a fracture of his ancle and will be unable to mount his horse for several weeks to come. Lieut. Bailey, of company E., was acting in his place. Col. O'Connor is not able to be in command of his regiment yet, and Lieut. Col. Fairchild is, as he has been most of the time since his appointment, the acting Colonel. Gov. Randall and N. B. Van Slyke were negotiating with the Department for funds to reimburse the state for expenditures for the war.

TROUBLE AT RIPON—THE "CAVALRY" DESTROY A PRINTING OFFICE.—We regret to hear that great complaint is made by the people of Ripon of insubordination in Col. Daniels' cavalry battalion, now stationed there; and that a few nights ago a number of the members of the battalion entered the "Star" office, threw the type out of the window, and broke things generally.

A citizen of Ripon informs us that the following morning Col. Daniels made a speech to his men, rather calculated to incite them to fresh outrages upon the people than to prevent another outbreak.

We give this rumor as we hear it, not knowing what provocation there may have been for such conduct. We can hardly conceive of any condition of circumstances within this state, at the present time, that could justify a resort to these summary proceedings, or warrant an officer to lend them the slightest countenance.—Madison Journal.

The body of a middle sized man contains a compound of phosphorus, which if in a free state and inflamed, would burn him up and everything around him.—Exchange.

Can't be, says the Hartford Times. We know lots of old bachelors and antiquated maidens who havn't got phosphorous enough in them to make a match.

AGENCY FOR NATIONAL LOAN.

PURSUANT to instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, a book will be opened on the twentieth day of November, 1861, at my office, in Janesville, for subscriptions under my superintendence for Treasury Notes, to be issued under the act of July 17, 1861. These notes will be issued in sums of fifty dollars, one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, one thousand dollars, and five thousand dollars each, dated 19th August, 1861, payable three years after date to the order of the subscriber or as directed, and bearing interest at the rate of 7 3-10 per cent, per annum, payable semi-annually; such interest being at the rate of two cents each day on every hundred dollars. For the convenience of the holder, each note will have coupons attached expressing the several amounts of semi-annual interest, which coupons may be detached and presented for payment separately from the notes.

Subscriptions for such Treasury Notes will be received during fifteen days from the day of opening the book as aforesaid and afterwards. No subscription for less than fifty dollars nor for any fraction of that sum can be received. Subscriptions of fifty dollars or one hundred dollars must be paid in lawful coin of the United States at the time of subscribing. Subscriptions of more than one hundred dollars may be paid at once; or, if preferred, one tenth at the time of subscribing and one-third of the whole amount on every twentieth day thereafter until the whole shall be paid. No payment of less than fifty dollars can be accepted, that being the smallest sum for which Treasury Notes can be issued.

Certificates will be granted in duplicate to subscribers for the amounts so paid, the original of which the subscriber will transmit by mail to the Secretary of the Treasury, when Treasury Notes, as aforesaid, will be issued thereon to such subscriber or his order, carrying interest as expressed in such certificate; but in cases where only a part of the amount subscribed is paid at the time of subscribing, Treasury Notes will be issued only for the payments made subsequently to the first, which will remain until the whole amount subscribed by such person shall be paid, when Treasury Notes will be issued for such first payment also. On payment of each deferred instalment, the subscriber will pay, in addition thereto, a sum equal to the interest accrued thereon from the 19th of August to the date of payment, and on final payment like interest on the amount paid on subscription, which payments of interest will be reimbursed to the subscriber in the payment of the first coupon.

The Treasury Notes issued upon such certificates by the Treasury will be sent to the subscribers my mail, or such other mode as may be indicated by them when they transmit their original certificates. The duplicate certificates may be retained by them for their own security. WM. M. TALLMAN, Agent

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been designated "The Old Hartford." DWELLINGS AND CONTENTS.

The solid service long and successfully tried, and the many advantages the Ætna Insurance Company possess in its line, should not be overlooked by those ready to insure and understanding their bests interests.

During "stringent times" the necessity for reliable Insurance becomes an imperative duty—the ability of property holders to sustain loss being then much lessened.

Agencies in all the principal cities and towns throughout the state. Policies issued without delay, by any of the duly authorised agents of the company.

Business attended to with despatch and fidelity.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals; and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,

CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

The only Correct and Complete

HISTORY OF THE WAR.

THE SOUTHERN REBELLION and the WAR FOR THE UNION:

A History of the Rise and Progress of the Rebellion, and

Consecutive Narrative of Events and Incidents, from the First Stages of the Treason Against the Republic down to the Close of the Conflict,

TOGETHER WITH IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS AND EXTRACTS FROM REMARKABLE SPEECHES.

In Weekly Parts, 32 pages, large 8vo, Price 10 Cents.

THE want of an authentic and thorough History of the Rebellion, for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, dispatches, letters and editorials of the daily newspapers, to precipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To meet this want, and to produce a work of permanent value as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the history as above set forth—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the STORY AS IT IS, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important documents and extracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be a mere diary, nor a mere enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a compilation of slips from newspapers, but will portray in connected and interesting narrative, the revolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government.

It will carefully digest all evidence—will sift all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so far as possible the errors and discrepancies incident to the hasty narratives of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style suited to its theme—at once graphic, earnest and luminous, introducing such personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

It is true, everybody reads the newspapers, but the reports of the newspapers are the fragmentary and contradictory children of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complete history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsome volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the records of the War of Independence, or the Life of Washington, and worthy to be kept for children and grand-children, as a memorial of the present time.

It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to every citizen, every family, every office, every library: and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patriot, every Union man, every good citizen in our still Glorious Land.
